Vale voters head for polls in 2015 general election

AS The GEM went to press, voters in the Vale of Glamorgan were preparing to go to the polls in the general election.

This year, the candidates represent established parties, new challengers and those who want to highlight key issues.

Polling booths will be open from 7am to 10pm today (Thursday).

The 2015 general election has been labelled the most difficult one to call for many years.

The Vale is a microcosm of the general election itself because it doesn't come into the category of a 'safe seat' - which means every candidate will have hopes of making their mark.

In recent years, politicians have been worried about the turn-out in general elections - concerned that low numbers of votes signify apathy and a lack of engagement in the political process.

In the Vale in 1997, the turnout was 80 per cent - but by 2001 it had dropped to 66.7 per cent. The last two general elections have seen an increase in turnout - 68.9 in 2005 and 69.3 per cent in 2010.

The Vale's count takes place at Barry Leisure Centre - with a result likely, but not guaranteed, between 2am and 4am. Of course, if there is a recount, it could be considerably later.

Some people will stay up until the ' wee small hours' to watch events unfold on TV - others will wake up the next morning to a new government, or possibly reports that parties have started to haggle over coalitions or minority rule.

The following people are standing for election in the Vale:

Alan Herbert Armstrong - The Green Party;

Alun Cairns - Welsh Conservative Party;

Chris Elmore - Welsh Labour;

Ian James Johnson - Plaid Cymru;

Kevin Phillip Mahoney - UKIP;

David Morgan - Welsh Liberal Democrats;

Steve Reed - Cannabis is Safer Than Alcohol.

MAN OF LETTERS HAS PASSED AWAY

FORMER solicitor and councillor Chris Short, a well known figure in Barry, has passed away.

He was a tireless advocate for those sections of society he felt were neglected or downtrodden - and was a regular contributor to The GEM's letters page over many years.

Mr Short had been in hospital due to spinal cancer. The funeral is being arranged by AG Adams & Son and will take place at Cardiff and Glamorgan Crematorium, Port Road East, Barry at 4pm, on Tuesday, May 12. He leaves two children, Oliver and Sy.

Vale AM Jane Hutt said: "Deepest sympathies are being shared with the family and friends of Christopher Short after his brave fight against cancer over the past year."

Plaid Cymru's parliamentary candidate, Ian Johnson, commented: "Chris was always interested in both local and international affairs, whether that was campaigning against apartheid; in his former role at Friends of the Earth; or as an advocate for gypsy and Romany rights."

"As his local councillor, Chris would call or write to me regularly to give his opinion on everything, from the Trinity Street one-way system to the need for a pedestrian crossing on Buttrills Road. I will miss his enthusiasm for politics and willingness to get involved in the debate - whatever the debate may be."

The GEM joins in extending deepest sympathy to the family in their bereavement.

RNLI LIFEBOAT IN SEA RESCUE DRAMA

THE Barry Dock RNLI lifeboat was called out to a dramatic rescue on Friday (May 1).

At 12.56pm, the volunteer crew launched the all-weather lifeboat to search for a kayaker missing off Ogmre further down the Vale coast. The casualty was found off Porthcawl and was airlifted to hospital. The RNLI saves an average of 24 lives a day at sea. This coming weekend, it launches its MayDay appeal to raise vital funds for this lifesaving service.

Volunteers will be on Barry Island to support the appeal, or you can find an event close to you by visiting www.RNLI.org.

An example that heartens the soul

LAST Saturday, April 25, we were making our way home along Llanmaes Road after a day's cycling, when Enid had an unfortunate accident ending up on the road, inextricably tangled in her bicycle.

By the time I had turned to see what had happened, help was already arriving in the form of a host of passing guardian angels.

As is usual at such times, one can never remember exactly who was there, but we had every help anyone could wish for at such a moment – everything from knowledgeable help in giving Enid the best support possible, to calm traffic management.

All this was done with great care and consideration – help so freely given. So many people stayed with us until emergency services arrived, which was a considerable time.

So through the pages of The GEM, may we express our deep gratitude to you all for your help: an example that heartens the soul. Phil and Enid Bennion, Llantwit Major.

Penny drops on library closures

I WAS very interested to read the comments of Roul Duke (readers' letters April 23 – 'Why I will not be volunteering for the libraries').

Having originally offered the view that he would be prepared to consider volunteering for the libraries, he is now saying that he will not volunteer.

Mr Duke is fortunate that this will make no difference to his own local library in Barry, which is unaffected by the community libraries' decision. Those using Rhosne, Dinas Powys, Sholly, Wenvoe and St Athan libraries are much less fortunate in that if we say we will not volunteer, our much-loved library services will be closed by the council.

My issue is not with Mr Duke, or indeed, the many people from Barry, Penarth, Cowbridge and Llantwit Major, who said in the most recent consultation that they were in favour of the village libraries becoming community libraries, even though their own libraries were excluded from those plans.

My issue is with the Vale Council, who engineered a mandate for their proposals by taking into account the 'votes' of the users of the town libraries, presenting the results as a 50/50 split and giving themselves the green light to say "you run it or we will close it", to users of the village libraries.

I believe the whole consultation process was flawed and biased and intended to produce a pre-ordained outcome, ie removal of the village libraries from the council budget.

I look forward to the day the council will be forced to withdraw these plans and come up with some genuine alternatives to save money that have service cuts as a last resort, rather than a first resort. Adam Riley, East Atherthaw.

'Make your vote count'

AS it is polling day today (Thursday), I thought I would write in to remind people why they should vote.

We live in a democracy – we have the right to vote for whoever we want in a free and fair election, which many other countries do not allow.

If you don't vote, you are seen as invisible, dismissed as apathetic, and assumed not to care.

Furthermore, decision makers are less likely to take the views of non-voters into consideration than those who do vote. You should not give up your right to vote – your vote counts, so use it! Richard Bertin, Barry.

ASH RECYCLING PLANT: questions to be answered

I'VE been trying to get some more information about the proposal to build an ash recycling plant at the eastern end of Barry docks, but my telephone message to the council remains unanswered.

Recycling ash makes sense, and the much-needed jobs to our town would be welcomed, but I have some concerns with the proposal.

Transporting thousands of tonnes of ash from Cardiff via the Dinas Powys route seems senseless, when there is plenty of space at Cardiff dock near the incinerator plant to recycle the waste.

I'd like to know more about the ash dust that is likely to be blown by the wind, but my big worry is the volume of large lorries shuttling along the A4055: I calculate about 16 each day, that's 32 heavy lorry movements.

The aggregate and metal produced from the recycling will then have to be delivered over south Wales, creating more lorry movements, I estimate roughly another 16 lorries making a total of about 64 traffic movements a day through congested roads and junctions.

Of course, it will not happen like that, it is more likely that distributing the finished product will be less frequent and more concentrated.

These figures do not take into account the unknown additional traffic movements from the proposed wood-fired renewable energy plant further along the dock.

Two reports which studied the consequences of house building on our roads say our main highway cannot cope.

The Waterfront Transport Assessment 2009 identified several junctions along this route which were forecast to exceed theoretical capacity within the next five years – with the Palmerston Road junction being already over capacity.

More recently an LDP Highway Impact Assessment, 2013, revealed that six junctions along the A4055: Ffordd y Mileniwm/Cardiff Road; the Biglis roundabout; Dinas Powys School junction; the Merry Harriers, and the Cogan Spur junctions would be over capacity in 10 years' time.

Unsurprisingly, four of these junctions were found to be over capacity already.

These studies are not exactly bedtime reading and I am no expert in these matters, but the public will need reassurance before planning permission is granted for the ash recycling plant at Wimbourne Road. Dennis Harkus (FocusBARRY member)

'The Vale will be a sprawling suburbia'

THE process of writing the LDP that will run until 2026, will not be completed until 2017.

The pages of this newspaper have shown that developers have wasted no time in building on greenfield sites, while moving very slowly on brownfield sites where development is wanted; for example, Barry Waterfront.

Clearly developers are interested in profit and not communities.

Developers have been granted planning permission so quickly that it seems 10,000 dwellings will be added to the Vale many years before the LDP expires in 2026.

The LDP may be obsolete before it becomes a legal document.

Despite the allocation at St Nicholas being criticised by the Welsh Government, Redrow are pushing ahead with their development plans.

If the Welsh Government is publicly questioning a development site, surely the full LDP adoption process needs to take place before planning permission is granted?

Before 2026, the Vale will be sprawling, car-dependent suburbia, with the associated problems.

And the developers will have sucked huge profits out of our communities, while putting very little back. Ryan Collins, St Nicholas.

Dog mess is still a problem in Llantwit

LANTWIT MAJOR is being used as a huge dog toilet. This is mainly because there are a number of irresponsible dog owners who stroll around Llantwit without their dogs on a lead.

They can't see their dogs running over people's gardens, leaving their poo everywhere.

Not only is this irresponsible, it's against the law. I have noticed some of the culprits live on Acorn caravan site.

(Name and address supplied).

'GEM showed bias with right to reply'

YET again, I have read your paper in utter despair at the depths of your bias and subjective reporting.

I refer to the letter from Coun Lis Burnett and the surprising right to reply afforded to Mr Alun Cairns.

Numerous letters printed during the past 12 months have challenged the input, involvement or engagement of councillors or AMs and even, on occasion letters have challenged our First Minister.

However, not once, have I read that immediately following these letters, a right to reply has been readily given to any of these political activists by The GEM?

Perhaps I am woefully mistaken, but I am perplexed that, on this occasion, you have again, shown clear bias to Mr Cairns.

Perhaps you need to come clean and simply rename your paper as the Tory Chronicle!

As print media is falling and those who cannot afford internet access rely on newspapers like yours, I would have thought you would try harder to be the seeker of truth and justice that we expect!

I also would have hoped, that having read and responded to the letters regarding the recent wrap-around paid for by the Tories, you would have learnt a lesson, clearly not!

Belinda Robertson, Rhosne Point.

GEM NOTE:

The GEM consistently gives the right of reply, in one form or another, either at the time or in a subsequent issue.

On this occasion, in line with our usual even-handed approach, it was fair to give Mr Cairns an opportunity to reply before people went to the polls – so that both sides had their say.

We are content to let our readers form their own opinion on The GEM's long-standing political neutrality.

Do locals count in planning discussions?

WILL the financially strong housing developers bulldoze their approvals through, despite Vale residents' protests?

Is there any need for the Vale Council to have a planning department and committee when, it seems, any planning application by a large developer is approved – no matter how much it conflicts with Planning Policy Wales?

Despite comments by the Welsh Government that the sites at Bonvilston and St Nicholas are too large and too far from services, it seems that planning policy will once again be forgotten at the request of a wealthy developer.

In the coming week, we will discover if our council listens to our views when the LDP goes before the cabinet, or if our representations were a waste of our time because developers and landowners, assisted by the council, have already decided what is to be built where, with no consideration of local needs or Planning Policy Wales.

Chris Williams, St Nicholas.

Barry Camera Club hosts David Hunt Trophy evening

AS Friday, April 3 was Good Friday, our April programme started on the 10th, with our annual David Hunt Trophy evening, a club spokesman reports.

This trophy is dedicated to our late member David Hunt, a doyen of Barry Camera Club, who served the club over many years in all offices and capacities.

David was particularly interested in natural history and the competition subject, therefore, is natural history, split into two sections: one for prints (both monochrome and colour) and the other for projected images.

Our judge this year was Jenny Hibbert, who is a natural history specialist, and has been a guest speaker on more than one occasion.

Jenny expressed her pleasure at both the quantity and quality of the entries and was pleased that the subject is so well supported by members at the club.

After giving a thorough critique on every image, Jenny presented the following awards:

Prints: First place and 20 points went to Glen Porter for his picture entitled 'Swan'. This shot narrowly beat Roy Carr's 'Bee And Poppy' into second place with 19 points and Rob Owens' 'Grey Heron' into third place with 18 points.

Projected Image: This was a very close-fought contest but Ken Mayled's 'Arabian Onyx' was judged the pick of the bunch with 20 points, and was also awarded the David Hunt Trophy for the best image of the evening.

Phil Stillman was awarded second place for his picture 'Otter On A Log' and 19 points.

Third place was not so clear cut; Mike Lewis' 'Flower Head', Steve Everett's 'Preying Mantis' and three separate images by Tina Haydon entitled 'Turnstone', 'Jackdaw' and 'Black Headed Gull' were all awarded 18 points, showing just how close the contest had been.

It was obvious that five separate images could not share third place so Jenny made a decision that third place should go to Steve Everett's 'Preying Mantis', with the other four images being classed as highly commended.

Our thanks go to Jenny for a very informative and entertaining presentation.

Friday, April 17, saw the visit of Heidi Stewart from Gwynfa Camera Club. Heidi is one of the circuit's newer speakers and agreed at short notice to stand in for Graham Hodgkiss, who unfortunately was unable to attend due to medical concerns.

Heidi's presentation was entitled 'My Journey So Far' and showed us a range of her work in print and projected image form. We saw some wonderful landscape and seascapes from around Wales, Devon, Cornwall and the Lake District.

There was also street/urban work shown in the form of some candid shots taken of people around London.

Heidi finished off the evening with two short audio-visual presentations using the music from 'The Ugly Bug Ball' to show a range of insect photographs and 'Men of Harlech' to show a further range of Welsh landscape and seascapes.

It is rare indeed to see any audio-visual work at the club and full marks to Heidi for a very interesting evening.

Sunday, April 19, saw the wildlife group, headed by Phil Stillman, travel to Ogmere and Kenfig Nature Reserve for a natural history outing which unfortunately was less successful than was hoped for as the wildlife simply refused to show up! However, summer is on its way so there will be plenty more opportunities.

Once again the month concluded with our monthly competition night. This month the judge was Kevin Thomas.

Kevin gave a detailed and very thorough critique to every shot and despite his opening comments that he was impressed with the strength of the images he had been given, and was always pleased to see work from Barry, his overly-critical comments concerned some members; nevertheless he did manage to find some images that he liked and he awarded marks and prizes as follows:

Monochrome Print: Kevin awarded 20 points to both Mike Lewis for his shot 'The British Museum' and also to Roy Carr for his landscape 'Salt Cellar Rock' and 19 points to Jane Clapham for her 'Sunshine And Rain'.

First prize was awarded to Roy Carr, second place to Mike Lewis and third to Jane Clapham.

Colour Print: Twenty points were awarded to both Barbra Archdale-Smith for 'Hop, Skip And Jump', Frank Clelland for 'Aqua Alta Reflections At Night'.

Nineteen points were awarded to both Mike Lewis for 'The Neglected Fishing Boat' and Brian Trego for 'Estuary Chat'.

Of these Frank Clelland was declared first prize winner, Barbra Archdale-Smith second and Brian Trego third. As Mike Lewis had also scored 19 points his print was declared Highly Commended.

The Projected Image section was, as usual, the best supported section and Kevin made the following awards: Glen Porter gained an outright first prize scoring 20 points for his 'A Cold Day At Llantwit Major', but 19 points were awarded to both Ken Mayled for 'Which Bag Are You?' and Roy Carr for 'Severn Bridge At Night'.

Second place was awarded to Roy Carr and Ken Mayled was placed third.

Congratulations to all prize winners, but in particular to Roy and Mike for multiple successes.

May sees the end of the winter programme, and a new programme will start on June 6, with the annual Barrian Cup and Dave Cowdrey Trophy.

Approximately 20 clubs from Wales and the west of England will be competing for the trophies and anyone who wants to see some first class photography should come along to this event.

COUNCILLORS' SURGERY
RESIDENTS are invited to attend an advice surgery to discuss any council issues or concerns.

Plaid Cymru parliamentary candidate Dr Ian Johnson will be joined by Couns Steffan Wiliam, Nic Hodges, Shirley Hodges at The Community Room, The County Library, King Square, Barry from 11am until 12 midday on Saturday, May 9. No appointments are necessary.

Throughout the remainder of 2015, we have a full programme of talks, demonstrations, photographic expeditions, competitions and inter-club battles planned.

New members are particularly encouraged and will be made most welcome with a programme being prepared especially for the new and less experienced photographers, to allow them to quickly gain more proficiency and satisfaction from their hobby.

Barry Camera Club meets every Friday evening from 7pm to 9.30pm at St Francis Millennium Centre, Porth-y-Castell, Barry Garden Suburb, Barry, CF62 6NX. We are a very friendly organisation and new members of all experience and skill levels are always welcome to attend with no obligation to join.

Alternatively, for more information visit our website www.barrycameraclub.co.uk.

AM's praise for Pumphouse regeneration

ON Friday, April 24, Vale AM Jane Hutt, visited the Grade II-listed building, the Pumphouse, on Barry Waterfront.

The hydraulic pumphouse is part of the regeneration project in the Innovation Quarter, a joint venture between the Vale Council and Welsh Government.

She met the director of DS Property Developers, Simon Baston, to view progress on converting the building into business and leisure units as part of a 'Live, Work Play' vision for the site.

She was shown around the building, which was recently restored, thanks to an £800,000 Welsh Government grant and investment by the Vale council.

Viewing the exciting new units which use the fabric of the building combined with local materials incorporating sustainable features, she also heard about plans for cafe and restaurant facilities.

Ms Hutt congratulated Mr Baston on his vision and commitment to this new development for Barry.

A-Level pupils visit Iceland

Relaxing on the glacial ice at Jökulsárlón.

DURING the first week of the Easter holidays, Barry Comprehensive School undertook its fifth trip to Iceland. All pupils studying geography and/or geology at A-Level are given the opportunity to go on this 'trip of a lifetime'.

The group spent the first night in Reykjavik and visited the amazing waterfalls at Skógafoss and Sjelandfoss along with the black sand coast at Dyrhólaey.

The next few nights were spent on the south coast in Höfðabrekka with visits to the spectacular glacial lagoon at Jökulsárlón and the Skaftafell National Park.

The last two nights were spent in the south coast town of Selfoss where the group visited the erupting hot water spouts of Geysir, the plate boundary at Þingvellir and the amazing waterfall at Gullfoss. On the penultimate day, they visited new areas in the west of the country, including the volcanic cone at Grábrók and the beautiful waterfall at Barnfoss.

Hot water spouts erupting at Geysir.

Finally, before flying home, everyone took the chance to relax at the Blue Lagoon geothermal pools. As well as the amazing sights, the pupils were able to sample some Icelandic cuisine and experience the unique culture of this amazing country.

The trip, which is a joint venture with Cowbridge Comprehensive, was once again a great success and the pupils were a credit to themselves and their schools.

It is hoped that these spectacular sights will only help the pupils as they continue with their studies.

Busy time for 1st Barry Sea Scout group

Barry Sea Scout group have been very occupied of late - here they are pictured with a bivouac made from their very own hands!

THE 1st Barry Sea Scout group recently spent the weekend at Caeglas, the Guide Centre at St Nicholas, where 25 Cubs plus leaders arrived on Friday evening and were soon busy with their first activity, a night hike as part of their Navigator badge.

Saturday was spent at Fforest Fawr where the Cubs erected bivouacs where they ate lunch and later built shelters from wood foraged from the forest floor. Akela and the Sixers laid a trail through the woods, which the rest of the pack then followed.

The evening meal was eaten in the company of the Scouts and their leaders, who also had arrived at Caeglas on the Friday evening and were camping. Their activities during the day had included fire lighting and geocaching. Everyone enjoyed a campfire later in the evening.

On Sunday, the field was a hive of activity with the Scouts pioneering and cooking sausages over an open fire. There were bases for the Cubs to learn how to safely use a knife, axe and saw, to pitch and strike a hike tent, to light a fire, to complete a pioneering challenge to cook sausages over the fires they had started. During the weekend they had earned four badges.

Beavers arrived on Sunday morning and explored the woods nearby. The weekend finished with a going up ceremony when the oldest in each section moved up to the next section with Cubs gaining six new members, Scouts three and Explorers one.

All uniformed members, including leaders, then renewed their promises, as is traditional to celebrate St George's Day.

Then, on Sunday, April 26, Cubs and Scouts met with Emma, the park ranger at Porthkerry, to do some conservation work in the park.

Scouts removed unwanted sycamore saplings and the Cubs cleared the forest floor of loose branches and other wood to make habitat piles for the woodland creatures. The Beavers collected litter.

It's been a busy but valuable time, with leaders and members of each section working together for the benefit of the whole group and the community.

Housing project officially opened

THE Vale of Glamorgan's first extra care housing scheme, 'Golau Caredig' was officially opened yesterday last week by Lesley Griffiths AM, Welsh Government Minister for Communities and Tackling Poverty.

Located in the centre of Barry, the iconic glass-fronted building provides much-needed affordable independent living accommodation for people over 55 in the form of 42 purpose-built one and two-bedroom flats. Individual care and support is provided via an in-house domiciliary care and tenant support service.

Tenants have access to a comprehensive range of facilities including a restaurant, hairdressers, laundrette, communal lounge and IT suite plus a full programme of regular activities to help them stay active and healthy.

Gill (78), has multiple sclerosis and is in a wheelchair, husband Eric, (80), was her sole carer.

She said: "Our old flat was too small and we were struggling with day to day living. It was difficult getting out of the house and we were becoming very isolated."

"Our lives have completely changed, we have plenty of space and help is on hand should we need it. We've made lots of friends and we can get out to the shops easily, Eric's even been able to start playing bowls again!"

Supporting and encouraging independent living is a key element of this innovative £7.2m residential development.

Judy Keenor, Chair of Hafod Care said: "We are committed to providing high quality homes and support and are very proud of Golau Caredig."

"Tenants have the facilities and support they need to maintain their independence and play an active part in community life and we are already seeing the huge difference this is making to their health and wellbeing."

Coun Neil Moore, Leader of the Vale Council said: "I am really pleased that at long last the Vale of Glamorgan has a purpose-built extra care facility which has been too long in coming."

"I am also very pleased at its location within the heart of the town, where residents can access a multitude of amenities and are close to transport links."

Brave Alice conquers a marathon for charity

by GEM REPORTER

A brave young mum from St Athan has completed the London Marathon and raised £3,200 for charity.

Alice Roythorne (38) who has been diagnosed with cancer twice and is mother to 10-year-old Macie, told The GEM it had been a real slog.

Alice said: "It was an incredible experience, the support along the course is phenomenal."

"It was wonderful to have family and friends there to support me. It really gave me a boost."

"I thoroughly enjoyed the first half – then suffered excruciating pain in my knees so it was a tough six-hour slog – but nevertheless, I got there!"

"I was so proud to get my medal and even prouder to have raised over £3,200 for Cancer Research UK."

Alice initially found out she had Hodgkin's Lymphoma while she was pregnant in 2003. She was nearly 10 years free from cancer when she was re-diagnosed in 2013 and started a year of treatment for Ewing's sarcoma.

Alice explained: "I finished treatment in February 2014 – it had been an exhausting year, but I have always liked doing challenges and did the Race for Life Pretty Muddy event in the summer, followed by the Welsh Three Peaks later in the year."

Now, she's added the London Marathon to her list of achievements.

A VERY UPBEAT, HOT MIKADO..!

THE Penarth Operatic and Dramatic Society's latest production, Hot Mikado, is being presented at the Paget Rooms, Penarth, from May 13-16.

The production is based on Gilbert and Sullivan's operetta, The Mikado, but the word 'Hot' makes this Mikado quite a different musical!

The storyline remains the same where Nanki-Poo searches for his true love, Yum-Yum, but the music is more upbeat and includes gospel, blues and rock styles.

Audiences will love the musical's most well-known number, 'Three Little Maids' as it swings along with gusto; as does the choreography, which is pacy and exciting, together with lots of comedy, bringing out the fun element of the story.

Tickets for Hot Mikado are available from Brian Gardner on 029 20712260, from the Tenovus shop in Penarth town centre, or online at www.pods.ticketsource.co.uk. MG

New play parks are proving popular

FOLLOWING a public consultation exercise with almost 300 responses, the newly-improved play parks on Meggitt Road and Dryden Terrace are proving to be a hit with local children.

The Meggitt Road park has been designed with an educational 'space' theme, decorated with boards featuring questions such as, 'How far away is the sun from each of the planets?' and 'Can you find Pluto?' It will also feature signs with QR codes linking children to an educational video and song on the internet.

The park at Dryden Terrace has been decorated with an island theme which cleverly separates the toddler and junior equipment into land and sea areas. A ramp has also been provided to make access easier for disabled users.

Both sites have had picnic tables installed to encourage parents and children to spend time socialising and relaxing.

Phil Beaman of the Vale Council said:

"Working in partnership with the community has proved beneficial to the development of the project and the long term success of the play areas."

"I look forward to improved wellbeing and active opportunities for all ages and sectors of the local community when using these facilities."

An event has been organised by the Colcot Residents Board on May 29 from 2pm to 4pm at the Meggitt Road site, to officially open the park.

Dinas Powys teenager who died in Great War is not forgotten

David Miles (1898 - 1915)

MAY 9 marks the 100th anniversary of the death of David Miles who was the first – and aged just 17 – the youngest of more than 30 soldiers from Dinas Powys to die in the First World War.

He was born in Cadoxton in 1898, the child of David and Angelina Miles, father David working at a Dinas Powys quarry.

David had two younger brothers, John and Arthur and four sisters, Ann, Maud, Sarah and Doris. The family moved to Springfield House, Eastbrook, in the early 1900s and later to Llanblethian.

When war was declared in August 1914, David had not long left school.

He joined the 2nd Battalion of the Royal Sussex Regiment, part of the regular army, aged just 16, and embarked for France in January 1915, to join the British Expeditionary Force, which had suffered heavy losses in the fighting in 1914.

Given the dates, his training as a soldier can only have been minimal. His officers described him as "a great favourite in the regiment and a fearless and efficient soldier".

He survived for four months, but lost his life at Richebourg in the Battle of Aubers Ridge on May 9, 1915.

In 1915, following the transfer of German troops from the Western to the Eastern Front, Generals Joffre of France and French of Britain decided to exploit what was perceived to be a weaker enemy position.

An offensive was planned at Artois, (the area around Arras in northern France), one element of which was to take slightly higher ground at Aubers Ridge.

The result was inconclusive, with no ground won, nor tactical advantage gained. But the British Army suffered 11,000 casualties.

David was one of those casualties. His remains were never identified and he is remembered on the Le Touret Memorial (Panel 20) with more than 13,000 others, who also lost their lives in this sector of the Western Front in the early part of the War and who have no known graves.

David's cousin, Edward Miles, also enlisted in the Army and he, too, lost his life two years later in 1917. Both men are remembered on the Dinas Powys Memorial, as well as at Llanblethian Church.

Apprentice electrician Ashley wins top award

A VALE Council employee, Ashley Criddle, an apprentice electrician with the housing department's responsive repairs team, has been named 'Welsh Apprentice of the Year' at the Apprenticeship Awards Cymru 2015.

The awards aim to recognise and celebrate employers, learners, and providers across Wales who develop their workforce through apprenticeships and support their employees during their training.

The Apprentice of the Year category showcases dedication, commitment and high level of skills of individual candidates, who have chosen the apprenticeship route to further their own career.

Ashley, now in the third year of his apprenticeship, is off for three days in Deeside, Flintshire, to compete at the World Skills UK competition in the electrical installation category.

The announcement comes after the Vale Council's housing strategy manager, Jenny Lewington, was shortlisted as one of three housing professionals across Wales for the CIH Cymru Rising Stars award.

She will be presenting and debating as part of the competition at the CIH Cymru conference in Cardiff's City Hall.

The Head of Housing Services, Hayley Selway, said: "It is fantastic to see the talent we have here in the Vale. Both Ashley and Jenny excel in their areas and definitely want to make a difference for the residents of the area."

"I wish both of them good luck."

NFU ladies hear about changing face of television

THE April meeting of the Vale NFU Ladies was held at Penllyn Hall, with new members swelling the numbers.

Rosemary Scadden gave a very interesting talk on 'I was Sir Harry Secombe's Stand In'. She spoke about her working life at the old HTV studios and how life in the fast, modern age has changed the labour force, with electronics behind the scenes.

A vote of thanks was given by Tina Wride. Since the April meeting, the spring trip' has also taken place, with a coach load of ladies visiting Blenheim Palace. The weather was kind and the day a memorable one, with all members having a good time.

A well-earned rest was enjoyed at the Foresters Oaks Inn, Penhow, on the return journey before heading home after a super day.

A special thanks to the committee for organising this event.

The Vale NFU Ladies will now cease during the summer, restarting on September 15. JS

'Packed events agenda' in Vale

Isle of Fire - fire lilies at Barry Island.

THE return of Barry Island's cinema by the sea and the award-winning Isle of Fire event for 2015, has been agreed by the Vale Council, as part of a packed events agenda for the next year.

A report agreed on April 27 confirmed details of the 31 events that will be delivered by the council, either directly, or in partnership with others, during the next 12 months.

The wide-ranging programme includes events put on by the council itself, such as the Barry Island Weekenders and King Square Christmas Light Switch On - and those which are managed by community groups but supported, either financially or with help and guidance, by the authority's tourism and marketing team.

Miles Punter, director of visible and housing services, said: "Every year the Vale Council organises and supports a varied programme of events across the Vale."

"These events make an important addition to the tourism offer within the Vale and to the quality of life for residents. Last year's events programme was a huge success, with the Isle of Fire and 3D Christmas lights projection particular highs. Not content with that though, we intend to build on those achievements and work with a wide range of community groups to provide an even broader events programme that will offer something for everyone."

Bristol Channel pilot cutters head for Barry

At least five restored pilot cutters will be arriving in Barry tomorrow (Friday, May 8), to take part in the annual Barry Yacht Club 'Cock of the Channel' race down towards Lundy Island.

The race, which was first established by the working Pilot Cutters goes back to around 1936 when the winner was presented with the Silver Tern Cup and a club burgee embroidered with a cockerel, a tradition still carried out to this day.

The race, which starts at 9.50am on Saturday,

May 9, will take the boats on a 100-mile course past Ilfracombe and then across to Swansea, arriving back in Barry sometime on Sunday afternoon, to be followed by the prize-giving in the club.

Good viewing points for the start on Saturday will be from the breakwater at Jackson's Bay, Nell's Point or Friar's Point to watch them sail past Whitmore Bay and then down channel.

Race organisers Roger Donkin and Brian Dotchon, in commenting on the event, said: "This is a spectacular sight to see these majestic and historic craft sailing in the channel, especially from Barry which many owners of these boats see as their ancestral home."

Barry Yacht Club, based at the pier head next to Jackson's Bay, is a very active club, offering many types of membership including sailing, social members and the very fast growing sea rowing section.

For further details check out the Barry Yacht Club website or contact Roger Donkin on 07549 946 629.

Festival is set for July

GlastonBARRY will be held in The Mack events marquee at Romilly Park, on Saturday and Sunday, July 25-26.

The acts appearing are tributes to The Beatles, Oasis, Bob Marley, The Jam, Stereophonics, 2 Rude, Tribute to Ska, The Red Hot Chili Peppers, with Big Maccs Wholly Soul Band, plus local support.

KIDNEY RESEARCH WALKERS ARE JOINED BY THE VALE AM

Rhose WI re-elect committee at AGM

THE annual meeting of Rhose WI was held on April 30, with Mrs Marilyn Tucker, GFWI adviser attending.

After the usual monthly business items, members were asked to vote on the National Federation Resolution calling on the Government 'to remove the distinction between nursing care and personal care in the assessment of the needs of individuals'; the majority voting to support the resolution.

Treasurer Susan Grant reported on the healthy state of finances, and secretary Stella Hughes outlined activities and events the WI had attended over the past year.

President Jenny Reed thanked the committee for all their hard work and outlined future plans, including those for the 70th anniversary celebrations later in the calendar.

Barbara Goodway then proposed a vote of thanks to all the committee members. In her remarks, the adviser warmly congratulated the WI on its very successful year.

In the following election, the incumbent committee was re-elected unopposed, with the addition of one new member; president, secretary and treasurer remaining in post. The president then resumed the Chair and called on Pam Jupp to thank Mrs Tucker on behalf of the members.

Members were reminded the spring fair will take place this Saturday, May 9, at the Community Hall. A number of members would attend the annual meeting of the Glamorgan Federation at Port Talbot on May 6 and on June 4, several will attend the screening of the national centenary celebration by the Heritage Link.

The president will attend the Albert Hall for the celebration and two members will attend the royal garden party to celebrate 100 years of the WI.

The meeting closed with the announcement of the competition winner, Jan Dally, the raffle being won by Sandra Barnes. The next meeting will be at the Community Hall, Stewart Road on June 4 at 7.30pm, when Jan Price will give a talk on 'Humorous Poetry'.

New members and visitors are welcome to attend.

ON Sunday, April 26, a supporters group congregated at Morrisons car park, Barry, to take part in the annual Kidney Wales Walk for Life.

Once again we were joined by Jane Hutt AM, who gave her valuable time to support the charity. We had an excellent following of 60+ walkers, many of whom brought their dogs for a Sunday morning stroll.

So many people helped fundraise this year but special thanks go to The Place to Eat and their customers, who raised £202, and the patrons of the Cwm Talwg pub, who raised £162.

I would also like to thank Morrisons supermarket for their continuing support and allowing us to use their car park as our base.

So far, the walk has raised £1,600 which will be presented to Kidney Wales. Many thanks to all who supported us.

Police patrols cover local beauty spots

AN operation to target seasonal rises in anti-social behaviour and crime in local beauty spots has been launched.

The aim is to make the Vale coastline safer for local people and the many thousands of annual visitors.

The operation will involve high profile policing initiatives in clearly defined hotspots in the coastal strip from Monkash to Ogmere-by-Sea through May to September.

Inspector Rob Miles said: "By having a visible presence in these popular spots, we can stop crime before it happens and ensure anyone coming to the Vale coastline leaves with happy memories."

Wales Macmillan skin cancer nurse urges sun awareness

Nurse Sharon Hulley.

WITH summer just around the corner, a Macmillan skin cancer nurse from south Wales is backing the British Association of Dermatologists' Sun Awareness Week (May 4-10) by urging people to stay safe in the sun.

The number of people developing melanoma is continuing to rise, with around 110,330 people living with malignant melanoma in the UK, and over 700 people diagnosed every year in Wales.

Sharon Hulley, Macmillan skin cancer nurse based at University Hospital of Wales explains: "Most melanomas are linked to over exposure to UV rays from the sun or a sunbed. Just one episode of painful sunburn every two years can triple your risk of getting melanoma. I would urge everyone to 'get to know their skin'.

"I would recommend that everyone check their skin on a monthly basis to get to know where their moles or freckles are, and to get someone else to check the areas they can't see such as the back, bottom and back of legs. It's only when you know what they usually look like, that you would know if any were changing or new.

"About half of all melanomas start with a change in previously normal-looking skin. This usually looks like a dark area or an abnormal new mole. Other melanomas develop from a mole or freckle that you already have - maybe a mole that changes colour, bleeds, itches or is painful. If you are worried about any changes on your skin, you should visit your GP."

Sharon continued: "Skin cancer, if caught early, is very treatable and actually has one of the highest survival rates of all cancers and being sun aware is key. Our advice is to avoid sun beds, wear a high SPF sun screen, and cover up in the sun."

Apprentice scoops Skills gold medal

PENARTH apprentice, Aaron Horrobin, who is studying a Level 2 Diploma in wall and floor tiling at Cardiff and Vale College, beat four other competitors from colleges across Wales to win the gold medal in the Skills Competition Wales final. He also won the Welsh heat of SkillBUILD Tiling.

The finalists had to tile a boat design onto a wall within the time limit of five hours and Aaron (24) an apprentice at his father's tiling business, Supreme Ceramics in Penarth, said the competition had been close.

"I won the junior competition last year, but I never thought I'd win again this time round. The design that they gave us was quite tricky as it meant we had lots of curves and tricky cuts, but I did my best and was thrilled when they announced that I'd won in the awards presentation that night."

LONGER-LIFE CATS LEFT ON THE SHELF

CATS are living longer, but the homeless feline senior citizen is being overlooked, according to Cats Protection's Bridgend Adoption Centre.

The centre says improvements in cat care have greatly raised the life expectancy and quality of life for cats across the UK.

However, the bad news is that owners still appear to choose a cute, fluffy kitten or young cat over an older cat - and this puts a massive strain on the adoption centre.

Sue Dobbs, centre manager, said: "While 10 years ago the household moggie could have been expected to live to around 13, today's life expectancy is much higher.

"We have seen many cats surviving to their late teens and early 20s in remarkably good health.

"However, their longer existence places the centre under strain because older cats can block up pen spaces for many months, which means we are unable to help other needy cats or kittens until the older ones are found new homes.

"It is a shame, because older cats have a lot to offer, as they tend to be lap cats and have much more settled natures. Though the centre does its very best to care for all the cats in its care, life in a pen is no substitute for a permanent home so I would urge people to consider adopting an older cat."

Some of the older cats in desperate need of a home are:

● Heathcliff, a 16-year-old male admitted for rehoming because of changes in work commitments. He is a lovely, friendly cat who is finding the centre environment particularly stressful.

● Katie, a 10-year-old female and one of our longest staying cats. She was admitted because she wasn't settled with the other cats in the home.

She is a lovely, friendly cat who would make a purrfect lap cat.

● Tipsy, an 11-year-old female cat, admitted into our care because her owner was allergic. She is a friendly but independent cat who will make a great companion.

For advice about caring for a cat, or to offer one a home, call the centre on 01656 724396.

GIANT WELLY HIGHLIGHTS FUNDRAISING RNLI DRIVE

THE Royal National Lifeboat Institution (RNLI) unveiled a series of eight-foot yellow wellington boot sculptures to mark the launch of its national fundraising campaign, Mayday.

One of the larger-than-life welly boots will today be attracting the attention of shoppers at Working Street in Cardiff.

The Cardiff welly was unveiled by one of the RNLI's biggest fans: six-year-old Mia Davies from Barry, a pupil at Ysgol Sant Baruc. Mia hopes plenty of people will come down to Barry Island to show their support to her daddy (Barry Dock coxswain Hugh Davies) and the local volunteer crew.

Yellow and welly-themed events have been organised by communities across Wales to help support the charity that saves lives at sea.

To donate, visit RNLI.org/Mayday or text MAYDAY to 70007 to donate £3. Funds raised through the Mayday campaign will help fund the RNLI's lifesaving work. Texts cost £3 + standard network rate. Please ensure you have the bill payer's permission. The RNLI will receive £3.

'I am not Rainman'

THE National Autistic Society (Cardiff and Vale branch) has organised a talk by Robert Parton entitled, 'I am not Rainman' on Saturday, June 6 in Ysgol y Deri, Sully Road, Penarth, CF64 2TP, from 10.30am-1pm.

Robert Parton, aged 20, from Swansea, has high functioning autism. Diagnosed at three, with very limited speech and profound sensory issues, he has overcome adversity to become a truly amazing public speaker.

This event will be mainly of interest to families whose lives are touched by autism, and professionals who work in the field of disability; plus those who may wish to become more aware of autism. It is not restricted to branch members but pre-booking is essential. Age restriction - no children under the age of 15 years.

There is a suggested donation of £3 per person or £5 per family, which can be made on the door.

The event is subsidised by the branch, which is self-funded and relies on donations and fundraising to be able to put on our monthly coffee mornings, workshops and other activities.

MAESTEG'S CROSS INN IS CROWNED PUB OF THE YEAR

A MAESTEG pub has been crowned Pub of the Year by the Vale of Glamorgan and Bridgend branch of the Campaign for Real Ale (CAMRA).

The Cross Inn at Cwmfelin, on the outskirts of Maesteg, was voted CAMRA Pub of the Year for Vale of Glamorgan and Bridgend for the second time in three years. It was presented with the award due to the quality of its ale served, as well as meeting a range of criteria including style, atmosphere, decoration, service and welcome, community focus and value for money.

The Campaign for Real Ale (CAMRA) supports well-run pubs as the centres of community life - whether in rural or urban areas - and believe their continued existence plays a critical social role in UK culture.

CAMRA also supports the pub as the one place in which to consume real ale (also known as cask-conditioned beer, or cask ale).

In an area where good real ales are hard to find, this friendly multi-roomed pub with its own green-energy-run Cerddin Brewery is a breath of fresh air. Cerddin is Welsh for rowan tree which, in mythology, has magical properties.

The pub is situated between Maesteg and Bridgend, with buses stopping at the front door and the railway station within walking distance.

It has been owned and run by David Morgan and his wife Gillian Scott-Morgan since 1992, who are now helped by their daughter. In 2010, they installed a brewery at the side of the pub and made news as the first brewery in Britain to be entirely powered by solar energy.

CAMRA spokesman Nigel said that the award was well earned and explained that it's not just down to them offering five beers brewed on site and three ciders, which are sold in exemplary condition and at excellent prices. Other factors were taken into account - atmosphere, layout and the role the pub plays in the local community.

David Morgan said: "I wanted to create a community feel and give people a reason to come to Cwmfelin and Maesteg, and help raise the profile of area."

College seeks new governors

THE governance structure for Cardiff and Vale College (CAVC) is set to change and this week the college has launched a recruitment campaign, seeking to attract new members to the board of governors.

CAVC is looking to recruit individuals that reflect its vision and aims but who also have valuable experience from across a range of sectors, including business, finance, legal, PR, media, marketing, charity and education. Diversity and community representation will be at the heart of the board.

There are several roles available with varying commitments.

These are: governors, committee members and community board members (for both Cardiff Community Board and Vale Community Board).

A page has been set up on the College's website (<http://www.cavc.ac.uk/en/about-us/governance/join-our-board>) with all the information on the new governance structure; along with the application form and details of how to apply.

Geraint Evans, chair of governors, said: "Since establishment in 2011, Cardiff and Vale College has proven to be one of the most exciting and innovative colleges in the country. "Being part of our new governing body will see you supporting the college to achieve its vision. "It is a uniquely Cloudy2Clear Windows - Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes - not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Branch Manager Phil Powell feels that it's all about service. "Our product is simple. If your double glazing is steamed up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 5 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole."

Cloudy2Clear service the Vale, Bridgend, RCT and Porthcawl areas and Phil is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. "The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated."

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Phil a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

Vet nurse raises £400 for Support Dogs in the London Marathon

A veterinary nurse from Barry is putting her feet up after completing her first Virgin Money London Marathon, and raising £400 for charity Support Dogs in the process.

Sian Llewellyn is head nurse at the Barry and Boverton Veterinary Surgeries.

A keen runner, she had completed two half marathons and entered the ballot to run the marathon, little expecting to get a place as she knew many fellow runners who had tried for several years without success.

She explained:

"Finding I'd been accepted for the marathon last October was a surprise and my first thought was that I'd better start doing some proper training, which I did with the help of my running club, the Village Vipers, based in Cardiff.

"Taking part was really tough! I had abdominal and hip pain towards the end, but family, friends and the roar of the crowd got me through. The drums, music and fancy dress costumes made me smile at so many points throughout the 26.2 miles. You can't help but laugh when you see a gorilla skipping along the route or an ostrich having to stop to go to the toilet.

"My highest point was turning the corner to run down the Mall to cross the finish line, hand in hand with a complete stranger. Receiving my medal was an emotional and proud moment. I finished in five and a half hours, which was slower than I hoped, but I blame the various painful parts of my body!"

Ten days before entering the race, Sian attended a talk about Support Dogs and was inspired to use her participation to fundraise for them. She has so far raised £400 for the charity, which is dedicated to increasing independence and quality of life for people with medical conditions by training and supporting specialist assistance dogs.

It currently trains autism assistance dogs, disability assistance dogs and seizure alert dogs.

She added: "Support Dogs are amazing and, having heard what a difference they make to so many people, I really wanted to raise funds for them.

"I'm already being asked whether I'll enter another marathon. During the race my answer would have been no, never again! Now that the pain is ebbing away, my answer is most likely yes!"

SIAN LLEWELLYN

Anyone wishing to donate to Sian's chosen charity, Support Dogs, is asked to contact her at the Barry and Boverton Veterinary Surgery. It is based at 51-53 Ty-Newydd Road, Barry, South Glamorgan CF62 8AZ and can be reached on 01446 733406. More information on Support Dogs is at www.supportdogs.org.uk.

STROLLING ALONG VALE COAST IN THE SUNSHINE

ON a beautiful sunny spring weekend, Penarth and District Ramblers enjoyed two walks with the central theme of water, first a trek along the beautiful Vale coastline, followed by a fantastic journey through some of the glorious waterfalls in the Neath Valley.

A group of seven and Jodie the Staffie joined Geraint on a train ramble to Rhose, then following the Wales Coast Path along the coast through Fontygary to visit the ruined lime works and waterfowl at Pleasant Harbour, before continuing past Aberthaw Power Station to Gileston.

Crossing the pebbles above Limpert Bay, lunch followed in warm sunshine using picnic tables at Summerhouse Point before making their way along the cliffs beside cropped fields to Llantwit Major beach.

Turning inland through Cwm Colhuw, up a steep bank led along a track to Lower House Farm. Then, following the road for a short distance before deviating through a field containing the 14th century stone dovecot which was part of a grange run by lay brothers, steps led them down past the Ogney Brook to the church named after St Illtud, who founded a monastery which became a centre for education there in the 6th century.

Strolling on through the town to the railway station, it was only a short wait in the sunshine before the homeward journey.

Clive and his eight companions enjoyed a magnificent adventure beginning from Pontneddfechan and following the old tramroad beside the Nedd Fechan River with its variety of smaller falls.

A lovely bluebell wood above Pont Melin-fach opened onto a rocky bridleway and reaching the top, the panoramic views stretched for miles under glorious warm sunshine.

Following sunken tracks laden with wild violets and blackthorn trees to Cwm Porth, there was time for a quick peek at Porth yr Ogof, the largest cave entrance in Wales before lunch.

Narrow rocky pathways below the cliff face led them scrambling steeply down to the stunning waterfall of Sgwd y Pannwr in the Mellie valley, which was breathtaking as it tumbled into the valley below.

Continuing on past Sgwd Isaf Clun-Gwyn, after a steep climb, Sgwd yr Eira came into view.

Taking the slippery track under the waterfall, another climb led up onto a track on the opposite side of the valley and journeying through quiet forestry tracks to Dinas Rock, a sharp descent led back to the riverbank and, crossing a footbridge, they made the short journey back to their start.

On May 10, meet at 9.30am at Cogan Leisure Centre for an eight-mile moderate/hard walk at Henllys; contact Rachel on 01446 410545.

On May 10, the group are hosting the area walks, where there will be a choice of three walks (five, eight and 15-mile walks) in the Vale, all leaving Bonvilston Reading Room car park at 9.30am.

For more details of the routes and contact details, visit the group website below.

Wear suitable clothing, preferably boots and carry waterproofs, food and drinks. Some degree of fitness is required and if you are in any doubt, contact the walk leader for advice.

Cowbridge Food & Drink Festival's new ticket scheme

THIS year, the Cowbridge Food and Drink Festival decided to offer advanced ticket sales on their website.

This is facilitated by a Penarth-based company, Ticketsource, and is proving very popular.

Event organiser, Polly Wilson, told The GEM: "This is a new avenue for us; we set up the link in January and immediately started seeing ticket sales trickling in, which was amazing as the festival is in May. Now, it is really taking off!"

"With 2015 day ticket prices remaining at £5 and weekend tickets at £8, with 10 per cent off and the comparatively small booking charge per transaction (not per ticket as with other providers), you make a saving immediately on over two tickets.

"You will also skip the ticket office queues over the weekend.

"You will be sent confirmation of the order which you simply take to the Arthur John car park entrance, where there will be a dedicated entrance to scan your booking and receive your wristbands.

"As with 2013, the wristband tickets will then allow you access to all festival sites and activities, as well as offer many benefits with traders around Cowbridge."

Tickets are available until May 22, and of course will be available on the day. The Festival will also give a Cowbridge Food and Drink Festival recipe book (to be collected from the main marquee) to the first 100 bookings who quote 'GEM' as part of their name when booking a ticket, eg enter 'Helen Jones - GEM'.

• Full details of the festival are available on the website at: cowbridgefoodanddrink.org/buy-tickets.

Monsters: Dark Continent falls between two stools...

ONE of the bigger surprises of the last few years was Gareth Edwards' Monsters, an intimate story set against the aftermath of an alien invasion that was notable for Edwards' technical trickery (all the effects were done himself on his own computer) and the fact that it focused more on characters than spectacle.

It seemed an unlikely source for a sequel, but since when has that stopped a film studio, and Monsters: Dark Continent finds itself loosely connected to the original.

Ten years on from that story, the alien infected zones that were once wholly in central America have now spread worldwide, and, in particular, the Middle East, where a new insurgency has begun. Noah (Johnny Harris) and Michael (Sam Keeley) are two of the soldiers who must battle not only the insurgents, but also the creatures, and hope to survive...

Anyone expecting Dark Continent to follow Monsters' subtle approach to storytelling will be disappointed, the film is a gung-ho, action film that certainly has a degree more intelligence than your average grunt and gun type of film. However, it's also a film that feels very peculiar, almost as if the filmmakers created a story telling of the horrors and psychological stresses suffered by those fighting on the front lines of the ongoing 'war on terror' but were forced to piggyback on the Monsters name in order to make it a more palatable sell.

There is no real man versus monster conflict here; much like the first film the titular creatures are simply background, dipping into the story here and there but staying below the surface, with the main emphasis on the human story, the ordinary taking precedent over the extraordinary – it is this that is the film's main problem.

The creatures play such a small role in what takes place that it feels like a shameless cash-in on the first film's goodwill to use the Monsters title. What would have worked better is a story a group of men signing up for the army, and travelling halfway across the world to fight the good fight only to find themselves woefully unprepared and out of their depth, shorn of any mention of creatures from space.

The film plays this way for the majority of the running time, and does contain a degree more pathos and smarts than most films that do a similar thing, but it's undone by weak characterisation, an almost predictable order of death as things begin to go drastically wrong (if you can't predict the first character to be offed then you obviously don't watch enough films!) and performances that never really stretch themselves.

The most impressive thing on show in this otherwise mundane and muddled film is director Tom Green, whose direction is in your face and incredibly visceral, creating moments of breathless tension and edgy drama, yet also capable of moments of real beauty and subtlety.

Green's previous experience lies in television, but he makes the step up here superbly well, the direction incredibly impressive.

It's just a shame that what he and co-writer Jay Basu have come up with doesn't gel together well enough. As a 'monster' movie the only conflict is ideology, while as a movie about the terrors and hellish nature of war, it all too often feels clichéd.

It certainly isn't the worst film in the world, probably not even the worst film in cinemas right now, but Monsters: Dark Continent doesn't really deliver what it says on the tin.

VERDICT: A misguided attempt to jump on a bandwagon that, in all fairness, had left the station a while ago, Monsters: Dark Continent finds itself caught between paying lip service to the concept of the first Monsters film, while taking the story in a different direction that showcases the horrors of war and the foolish bravado of youth.

It has a few moments, but aside from Tom Green's impressive direction, there's not much to chew on here. Poor.

Screening a sell-out!

LLANCARFAN Community Cinema is hosting a second performance of popular Welsh film Dark Horse (2015, PG) after selling-out their first scheduled screening in record time.

Dark Horse tells the remarkable true-life story of the Welsh village syndicate that owns champion racehorse Dream Alliance, which won a string of races, including the Welsh Grand National, just 18 months after a near-fatal accident.

Llanccarf Community Cinema is screening the film, which won the Sundance Film Festival Audience Award in 2014, with support from Film Hub Wales. All profit from the screenings is going to the Llanccarf Village Hall fund for much-needed maintenance and repairs.

"We've been amazed at the response this film has received," says cinema volunteer Jim Barratt. "We knew it would appeal to racing fans and horse-lovers, and the Welsh connection gives it local interest. But we never expected to sell out so quickly. It helps that the film has had glowing reviews. It's great to see a local story doing so well on the big screen."

Tickets are still available for the second performance on Saturday, May 16 at 7.30pm. Full details can be found on the web site: www.llanccarfcinema.co.uk.

Penarth charity project is overcoming difficulties

THE Penarth and District Lesotho Trust has continued its financial and technical support of the children in Teyateyaneng, especially in their junior academy where over half the pupils are orphans and the residential accommodation at the school is their home.

Their headteacher, Godfrey Kakende, is, as he fondly refers to his role, "their mother and father".

The last few months have brought good and bad news because Mr Kakende has become a father after baby Constantina came into the world, but this was followed by the devastating news of his serious car accident.

His car was in collision with another vehicle and in the accident, the three occupants of the other vehicle were killed and Mr Kakende sustained many serious fractures and injuries.

However, this former Ugandan Olympic footballer has again demonstrated his determination and resilience and is making a good, if rather slow, recovery.

He is back in school, though the rocky nature of the school site does make it so difficult for movement on crutches and sadly, more hospital treatment is urgently needed.

Since last summer, so many improvements have been made to the TY junior academy. The second dormitory has been built and now the boys and girls have separate sleeping quarters. This was the major objective highlighted by the visit last summer of Penarth Lesotho Youth, the junior section of PADLT.

There have also been improvements made to the school classroom buildings and facilities improved in the library. The 'one tap for water' situation which amazed everyone has now at last been improved.

So again, PADLT thanks the people of Penarth and district because they know the money raised does get to Lesotho. All the visits by the trustees and others, and also the young people, are totally self-funded and expenses of the charity are kept to the very minimum, mainly bank charges when the money is sent to Lesotho which amount to only two per cent.

So, PADLT gives 98 per cent of all money obtained from gifts, donations and from the many events that are organised, to its work in Lesotho.

Our next money-raising events are the very popular annual plant and craft sale on Saturday, May 9, 10am to 1pm in Stanwell Road Baptist Church Hall, Windsor Road, Penarth, next to the Paget Rooms.

Plants can be fetched if you phone 02920 702269. This will be followed by the 13th annual 5km fun run on Saturday, June 10, at 11am around the lakes in Cosmeston Country Park.

Sponsor forms can be obtained from howellskeith@yahoo.co.uk.

Social group meets the owls

MEMBERS of Friends and Neighbours social group who meet at Beryl Road received a visit from Owls-4-u at their April Meeting.

Ann Bird and Alan Sheppard brought seven of their feathered friends to visit the group. Asha, Bart, Dai, Dusty, Honey, Babe and Merlin seemed to enjoy the attention they received and some were even happy to be held and stroked by the members of the group.

Ann talked about each owl and its history and their habitat and explained how Owls-4-u was established when Swan Rescue closed. Ann answered questions from the group which was followed by tea/coffee, cakes and biscuits, followed by the raffle.

The group is now looking forward to the lunch at Spinney and forthcoming trip to Tewksbury and trip on the river. Contact Gay Ffield, coordinator for further information.

'Teachings of Christianity are inclusive'

WITH reference to the letter on page 25 in last week's GEM, 'Christians are being persecuted', my first question is why was this even published as it is clearly plain and simple ignorance, and homophobia which I actually believe is illegal.

Were you to publish a letter requesting that people not vote for a certain party due to race, I'm certain there would be some investigation involving the police.

This letter is nothing more than a witch hunt. I am certain the fundamental teachings of Christianity are inclusive and loving, therefore those who pick and choose verses for the persecution of others are the real persecutors of Christianity!

Talk looks at outset of World War Two

ON April 28, Dr Gordon Roderick gave a talk to the Dinas Powys Probus Club on the political situation leading up to the Second World War.

There were five critical days in 1940 before Britain declared war on Germany. The principal players were Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain, Winston Churchill and, of course, Adolf Hitler. Chamberlain came from a family involved in industry in Birmingham, Unitarians by religion and social reformers. He did not go to university, nor did Churchill and many other politicians.

As the fear of war grew, he went to see Hitler three times and believed that they were working together to deal with Hitler's plans for expanding Germany's role in Europe.

In reality, Hitler was hoodwinking Chamberlain, who was regarded as Britain's saviour when he returned from Berlin famously waving a bit of paper that actually said nothing more than Hitler would not go to war with Britain – but this did not prevent him from attacking other countries.

Churchill was an aristocrat, born in Blenheim Palace and went to Harrow and Sandhurst. He became a hero in the eyes of the public, due to his bravery in the wars in Sudan and South Africa. He was MP for Oldham and a close working colleague of Lloyd George.

Together, they laid down the first guide lines of what would become the Welfare State.

In 1919, under the conditions laid down in the Treaty of Versailles, the aim of which was total humiliation, Germany was penalised for the damage caused by the First World War. Their Army was to be limited in number, as was their Navy, and they were not to develop any military equipment.

It was later realised that these and other conditions were too severe and were later modified. Germany was on its knees and starving due to the British blockade of their ports. They were looking for a saviour, and that was Hitler.

He boosted the economy, he ignored in part the restrictions of Versailles but invaded Austria and Sudentland, part of Eastern Germany. He also invaded Czechoslovakia which, to its shame, Britain ignored because it was of no interest.

However, when he invaded Poland, Britain was forced to protest and war was declared.

Until that moment, the population of Britain hoped that war could be avoided, almost at any cost, by considering appeasement to Hitler's threats and had tried to accommodate him over his expansionist plans.

Who was now to lead Britain? Chamberlain did not feel he could cope, and was already terminally ill. Lord Halifax was a possible candidate but he was known to be guilty of lamentable judgement in matters of State. He didn't understand Hitler, but preferred to accept unpleasant facts.

At the meeting to decide the issue, attended by Chamberlain, Churchill and Halifax, Churchill said nothing but stared out of the window until Halifax had talked himself out of the job, and then declared that he himself would take on the fight against Hitler, whom he personally despised as a tyrant.

He was declared Prime Minister, but on the understanding that it would only be until the war was over.

The vote of thanks was given by Colin Turner.

HARP TRIO ARE THE FESTIVAL WINNERS

Triawd Ysgol Iolo Morganwg with their trophy.

THREE young Vale harpists were winners in the ensemble competition at the 'South Glamorgan Festival for Young Musicians' which was held at St John's College, St Mellons.

The winners were Triawd Ysgol Iolo Morganwg – three harpists, Cesi Rhys Lewis, Sara Mair Jones and Caitlin Anna Morris.

The adjudicator James Stretton wrote about their performance: "This purred along like a well-tuned Rolls Royce engine. The sense of ensemble was immaculate throughout. Added to this dynamics, colour and projection. Such detail and commitment. Beautiful work."

He also complimented the ensemble on their harp trio arrangement of the music (he preferred it to the original!) CAROLINE GREENWOOD

Thousands flocked to the RHS Flower Show in the sun!

Images by
GLYN EVANS

IMPRESSIVE gardening displays and colourful blooms saw thousands of visitors flock to the Welsh capital for the RHS Flower Show in Bute Park.

Judging had taken place earlier and for the 11th year, Ron Scamp won best exhibit in the floral marquee for his display of daffodils, described by RHS Judge Jekka McVicar as 'one of the most perfect displays of daffodils I've seen in 30 years'.

Victoria Wade was awarded best show garden for her 'Alfresco' garden.

Katie Draper, show manager RHS Flower Show Cardiff said: "This year's show was packed with ideas and inspiration for visitors to take back to their own gardens."

"What better way to enjoy the fantastic weather than coming to see and stock up on beautiful plants from our award-winning nurseries and gain inspiration from our fantastic show gardens!"

CLASSIC CAR CLUB SHOW AT CARDIFF CITY STADIUM

SOUTH Wales Classic Car Club show takes place on May 17 at Cardiff City Stadium.

A tradition is about to change: The thriving community of classic car clubs has a dynamic calendar of shows in south Wales, attended by enthusiasts from all parts of the UK.

One of the first of the season has traditionally been the South Wales Classic Car Club show, known previously as the Pencoed show, with upwards of 600 exhibitors and a variety of trade and other show stands.

A spokesman said: "The demise of the Tredegar House show promotes the South Wales Classic Car Club show to what we believe is the largest in the region."

"For 2015, a new site has been sought to improve enjoyment and access for all – a secure open space offering hard-standing for all exhibiting classic cars and visitors' cars alike, with grassed areas and on-site facilities with well-signed routes leading to the venue.

"The date for the 2015 show has also been changed to Sunday, May 17, thanks to the cooperation of the Morris Minor Owners Club."

"The show will now be held in the 1,200-space car park and setting of the Cardiff City Football Club Stadium."

"For trade and auto jumble enquiries, contact Nigel Taylor on 029 2079 7847 and for exhibitor enquiries, contact Ian Thomas on 01443 406333, or visit our website <http://www.swccc.net>."

Public meeting called on Dinas Powys library

RESIDENTS are being invited to a public meeting, to discuss options to ensure library services continue in Dinas Powys.

Organised by the Community Council, it will take place at Murchfield Hall, Sunnycroft Lane on Monday, May 18 at 2.30pm.

Coun Chris Franks, chair of the council, said there appeared to be no alternative but to explore options for residents to play a greater role in the running of the library.

"The Community Council has submitted an 'Expression of Interest' with the Vale Council. Should it seem appropriate, the Community Council will have to draft a business case to take matters further," he commented.

Representatives of the Vale Council would be present to respond to questions.

"There are major issues to consider in addition to the number of volunteers required, the financial implications and the management of any community-based library. The potential building maintenance issues also need consideration."

"The library celebrates its 50th anniversary this year and faces a crucial juncture. This is an opportunity for residents to help shape the future of library service for the future," Coun Franks added.

SOLID ROOF CREATES A CONSERVATORY TO 'LIVIN' WHATEVER THE WEATHER

Conservatories are a great way of adding a light and airy room to any home. However, depending on where the conservatory is positioned and the amount of shade outside, it can let in too much light.

Too much sunlight can mean the conservatory gets very warm in summer and, even on a bright winter day, make it difficult to watch TV, browse an iPad or work on a computer.

At Securahome we are now able to offer an alternative to polycarbonate or glass – a solid roof.

Called a Livin Roof, this system can be fitted to an existing conservatory, so there is no need to change the existing walls and glazing.

Thanks to Kingspan insulation, the Livin Roof is 15 times more thermally efficient than a polycarbonate or old glass roof without solar control, meaning the conservatory will be warmer in winter.

For those who don't enjoy the, all-too-common, pitter-patter of raindrops, the Livin Roof also improves sound insulation compared to polycarbonate and glass.

The inside of the roof is a plaster-boarded to keep an airy and modern 'vaulted ceiling' feel, meaning it can be finished with down-lighters or pendant lights. With the option to add glazed panels to the Livin Roof, it's even possible to keep a view of the heavens!

Hypnosis could help you to overcome fears

AIR travel has become a part of everyday life. However, it is estimated up to one in 10 people suffer from a fear of flying, also known as aerophobia, which can severely limit their horizons.

A fear of flying can occur for various reasons, from claustrophobia to a feeling of loss of control.

The subconscious part of your mind is responsible for your survival, generating 'fight or flight' responses.

Where it was obvious the plane was not in a condition to fly, your mind would be doing a great job. However, in the case of a flying phobia, the protection mechanism meant to keep you safe is over-sensitive and is now a problem.

Hypnosis can help you overcome your fear by re-educating the subconscious and stopping it becoming over-protective, creating negative feelings.

Top national award for South Wales storekeeper Elton

Elton Jones of United Carpets and Beds is pictured receiving his award from the group's executive chairman Peter Cowgill.

South Wales storekeeper Elton Jones is celebrating picking up a major national award for his work. For Elton, who runs his own United Carpets and Beds store on Sloper Road, Cardiff, has been voted Franchisee of the Year by the United Carpets Group.

The group – which is currently celebrating its tenth anniversary of becoming a plc – has more than 60 flooring and beds stores across the UK. The award for Elton was announced at the company's annual conference by chief executive Paul Eyre.

"Elton is a well-deserving winner of this hotly-contested award, and the prize reflects his dedication, hard work, commitment and efficiency," he said. "United Carpets are renowned for our excellent customer service and great deals and Elton's store in Cardiff reflects everything that we're about."

Local man Elton took over the franchise of the store several years ago with his wife Elise, and has more than 20 years' experience in the carpet and carpet fitting business.

"I think people appreciate the fact that although we have the buying power of a big company behind us, which keeps our prices down, we're very much a local business staffed by local people. We provide a really friendly service that customers like."

Elton is currently stocking his store with the new Spring ranges and some special offers, and says he's delighted to have won the award. "On the awards night I was thrilled but really surprised to win, because there are so many really excellent franchisees at United Carpets," he said. "The award is also shared with my staff – and I'd also like to thank our customers from all over South Wales, who keep coming back and show us a lot of support."

Sir Ray Tindle: 'THE LOCAL PAPERS WILL LIVE FOR EVER'

SIR RAY TINDLE has spoken of the resilience of the local press industry and his strong belief that local newspapers "will live for ever" – despite the challenges posed by the economic downturn in recent years.

Announcing a new bonus scheme for Tindle Newspapers' staff, Sir Ray pointed to evidence of the strength of the industry in the face of competition from competitors and challenging economic conditions.

Sir Ray (pictured right) said: "Tindle Newspapers is only one group of many that have fought the good fight and shown that really local papers will live for ever."

"We ourselves in these seven years, seven long drab years, have launched 20 new local papers in London and the provinces in an effort to replace lost national revenue and to raise our profile. We are proud of every one of them."

"Our advertisement departments and our circulation departments have fought valiantly to keep up the revenue and the circulation. The whole staff has been marvellous."

"Because of this we have come through these years without borrowing a single penny, without making a single journalist compulsorily redundant and without closing a single main title nor missing a single edition."

Speaking about competition from the internet, Sir Ray (proprietor of The GEM titles), added: "In 1971, many were saying we would be badly affected by the coming of local commercial radio into our towns."

"Then came a recession, followed by the arrival of free newspapers throughout the UK. This was followed by local commercial television."

"Our finest years, however, were from the mid-1990s to 2008 when we had all these and other competitors hammering away all at the same time for the same pot of revenue."

Ysgol Bro Morgannwg pupils report on the (election) reporters!

The group with S4C
News presenter,
Bethan Rhys Roberts.

KING SQUARE in Barry was transformed on Monday, April 20, with a massive white pavilion filling the space in front of the library.

Journalists were milling around with cameras at the ready and the rosette-adorned parliamentary candidates were waiting to discuss their policies with the public.

This was the BBC election tour and in the melee enjoying the excitement were 14 lucky pupils from Ysgol Gyfun Bro Morgannwg ready to report on the action.

They interviewed the candidates, questioned the journalists, and chatted with passers-by about their concerns in this area. The students were also interviewed by the BBC and aired their views about future hopes for the country and its politics.

...A wonderful opportunity for any wannabe journalists and politicians!

• The following report was written by two of the pupils...

The day began with an hour-long debate between the Vale of Glamorgan parliamentary candidates live on BBC Wales. Oliver Hides hosted the debate with BBC parliamentary correspondent David Cornock, and the candidates taking part were: Kevin Mahoney (UKIP), Alun Cairns (Conservative), Chris Elmore (Labour), David Morgan (Lib-Dem) and Ian Johnson (Plaid Cymru).

(Also standing are Alan Armstrong of The Green Party and Steven Reed of the Cannabis is Safer than Alcohol Party).

We managed to snag a short interview with Laura, from BBC Wales, and we asked her about the purpose of events like this. She replied: "The importance of today is to hear views from all the candidates in the Vale, so that the public can all decide who they will vote for in the upcoming general election."

We wanted to get two different views from two different politicians; the first was Alun Cairns, representing the Conservative Party. He told us: "Days like this are important on two grounds, the first one being that it allows individual constituents to challenge what the politicians say and, secondly, it allows me to communicate with the community."

We then consulted Chris Elmore of the Labour Party about his plans for the Vale and Labour in general should they be elected this May. He promises that they would increase the minimum wage to £8 an hour, make companies Heritage bus trips are a hit in Barry!

RIGHT: A 53-year-old AEC Reliance bus which used to be part of the Devon General Grey Cars touring fleet.

These coaches had narrow width bodies to negotiate the country lanes in Dartmoor and Exmoor national parks.

(Photo by TUDOR THOMAS)

THE Cardiff Transport Preservation Group opened the doors of its heritage vehicle centre last Sunday at the bus depot in Barry for visitors, and ran free bus trips all day.

The charity group ran some regular favourite buses and among them was the 1964 Guy Arab open top bus that used to be owned by City of Cardiff Transport.

With the heavy rain on Saturday and on Sunday morning it thought it would be kept inside the garage but of course, the sun did come out!

Visitors were treated to trips on several different old buses and luxury coaches - like a former 1968 Neath and Cardiff Luxury Express coach that used to run between Cardiff Bridgend and Swansea in the 1970s and an older 1962 Devon General Grey Cars touring coach that used to take visitors over Dartmoor and Exmoor in the 1960s.

chairman of the heritage bus restoration group, said: "The weather looked a bit against us with a wet early morning but the sun came out and everyone who came had a good time."

"It was nice to see local families with children come along, and I was surprised to hear that visitors had come especially for the day to Barry from Yorkshire, Lincolnshire and Kent."

"We are now gearing up for our big event on June 14 when we are expecting lots of classic cars to come along to Barry Island Festival of Transport".

The day was the first chance the public could see the last bus built in Cardiff in 1951, back after 23 years in South Africa. The next opportunity will be at the group's next open day during the big classic car and bus Festival of Transport in June.

Writer's play receives its premiere...

THE first play in Britain to deal with the 'War on Terror' will be presented by the Fluellen Theatre Company today

Thursday, May 7 at 7.30pm at the Taliesin Theatre on the campus of Swansea University.

The play entitled 'My God' involves two returned veterans from the war in Afghanistan, one a soldier, the other a British Mujahadeen who are trapped by an IRA agent and forced to continue the struggle in Northern Ireland.

The play explores emotions of fear, regret, love and loathing and is the debut play of Porthcawl-based published writer Brian Roper.

Roper said of the play: "This is a serious play about a serious issue which claimed the lives of 435 British service personnel and hundreds of their enemies and which continues to this day".

The play is part of a showcase of new plays being written at the UK's leading centre for creative writing at Swansea University.

Centre director Professor David Britton said: "These plays maintain the high standard that we have achieved here over many years and are part of our award-winning output of fiction and poetry."

Romilly gets the seal of approval

THE Vale's largest primary school has had its performance judged to be "good" and its future prospects "excellent", by the national school inspectorate Estyn.

The inspector's report, which was said to make encouraging reading for parents and staff alike, highlights a number of areas of good practice at Romilly Primary and praised the children and the teaching staff.

Pupils are described as being very well behaved and enthusiastic about their learning, while their reading and writing skills are highlighted as "good" and their speaking and listening skills as "very good".

Headteacher Kelvin Law, who also plays a major role in supporting the improvement of other schools across south Wales, welcomed the report, saying: "We are delighted to have received such positive feedback from Estyn, in particular that the strong commitment of everyone involved with the school has been recognised."

Estyn's report commended the wide range of learning experiences and consistently good quality of teaching offered by the staff and highlighted the rigorous tracking of pupils' progress. It also noted that pupils with additional needs received high quality support.

The governing body was judged to be knowledgeable, well informed and supportive, and acts purposefully as a critical friend.

Following the publication of the report Jennifer Hill, director of learning and skills for the Vale Council, said: "This is yet another good news story for education in the Vale. There are few inspection reports as positive as this and that is a testament to the hard work of Kelvin Law and all of the staff at Romilly Primary School."

Hayes 'Island' as you've never seen it before!

A48 Barn by Andy Coleman.

THIS month, there was something for everyone on offer at the Vale Photographic Club, with one of the most varied programmes seen for a while.

The month started with a talk by Jan Cawley, an experienced judge and past president of the Welsh Photographic Federation with an evening entitled 'What judges look for' - great not only for those wishing to enter competitions, but anyone looking for advice to improve their photography.

This was followed by the return of an old favourite entitled 'Cled's Neg'. An event that traditionally started back in the days of film processing was given a modern twist. Members took the same photo - in this case a photograph of the Hayes in Cardiff, and using digital processing software, created a new image that simply needed to retain some of the original picture.

The resulting entries demonstrated creativity and skill, and provided much hilarity, including the Hayes transformed into a harbour, complete with docking boats! A really fun evening designed to develop your photo editing skills.

The month completed with a talk by local member Nick Thornton showing images from his recent trip to Chile and a competition entitled '50 yards from your front door' which really did demonstrate that superb photos can be found literally on your doorstep!

We're also pleased to announce that members Bridget Craddock, Nick Craddock, Mike Davies and Mike Baker all had images accepted into the Welsh Salon, recently opened by Jane Hutt (AM). The exhibition is now open at Barry Library (10am - 4pm) until May 30. Congratulations to all concerned.

For further information on the club, which is open to ages 16 and over (16 - 18-year-olds must be accompanied by an adult), visit our website at www.vale-photographic-club.co.uk, or simply turn up to a club evening - we meet every Friday from September to July at 7:15pm in the Ystradowen village hall.

Whether you're looking to develop your skills as a serious photographer, just starting out with a new camera, or simply looking to take better photographs of the kids, you'll be most welcome.

Poor toilet facilities

I WAS in Bridgend shopping recently where both public toilets were locked up and facilities in the bus station are also minimal.

What can it be like taking children there, and for the owners of private premises?

I think that I am right in saying that local authorities have had a statutory duty to provide sanitary facilities for the public for at least 100 years.

Will the Assembly please enforce it?
Robert Hubbard, Monkash.

Wildlife garden

LOUGHER Moor, in Morfa Lane, Llantwit Major, Vale of Glamorgan CF61 2YT will be opening to the public under the National Gardens Scheme later this month.

The wildlife garden comprises ponds and woodlands, and was 30 years in the making - every tree and shrub planted by the owners.

The natural habitat, created out of what was a field of rye grass is now home to a variety of bird life, flora and fauna.

Opening information: Saturday, May 16 (2pm - 5pm), Sunday, May 17 (2pm - 5.30pm). Admission £3.50; child admitted free. Home-made teas.

Journey of a shoebox...

THIS Saturday (May 9) at Bethel Baptist Church Centre, Pontyclun at 10am, Mrs Denise Dickman, a volunteer with Samaritan's Purse, will be recalling her trip last December to Romania, where she witnessed the handing over of the many shoeboxes that were collected on behalf of Operation Christmas Child.

Those attending will also be given an update on last year's successful campaign, when 22,499 shoeboxes were checked and sent out from the Llandow warehouse.

Mr Chris Roberts, Samaritan's Purse assistant director of field ministries, will talk about this year's campaign and there will also be a musical interlude from a close harmony singing group.

Free coffee and tea will be served and everyone is welcome to attend.

Llais Lleol – Eleri Roberts

Yn dilyn llwyddiannau corau Ysgol Iolo Morganwg a Heol y March yng nghystadlaethau Côr Cymru 2015 fis Ebrill, Eleri Roberts, arweinyddes y ddau gôr, sy'n ateb ein cwestiynau mis yma.

Ym mha ardal o'r Fro ydych chi'n byw?

Rwyf yn byw ym mhentrefan Heol-y-March, ger Llandunwyd (Welsh St Donats).

Beth yw'r peth gorau am fyw yn y Fro?

Byw mewn ardal wledig, bod yn agos i'r brifddinas, bod yn rhan o fywyd Cymreig y Fro, a gweithio gyda dysgyblion rhai o ysgolion Cymraeg y Fro.

Beth ydy'ch diddordebau?

Cerddoriaeth corawl wrth gwrs, ac hefyd coginio bwyd llysieuol, a siopa am ddillad a sgidiau neis!

Beth ydych chi'n ei fwynhau fwyaf am ddygys canu ac arwain corau plant?

Mae'n bleser mawr gweld y plant yn mwynhau eu canu, yn gweithio efo'i gilydd mewn tîm, ac yn cael llwyddiant ar ôl gweithio mor galed. Rwyf wir yn credu fod profiadau fel hyn yn helpu plant i ddatblygu hyder a sgiliau bywyd.

Llongyfarchiadau mawr i chi ac aelodau Côr Ysgol Iolo Morganwg a Chôr Heol y March am eich llwyddiant yng nghystadlaethau Côr Cymru 2015. Sut brofiad oedd y penwythnos?

Profiad bythgofiadwy ac emosiynol i'r plant, y rhieni a fi! Mae Côr Ysgol Iolo yn gôr bach ac ifanc, felly nid oeddwn yn disgwyl ennill o gwbl. Roedd llwyddiant Côr Heol y March hefyd yn annisgwyl, gan ystyried safon uchel iawn y corau eraill, ac rwyf yn credu fod y gystadlaethau yn un agos iawn y flwyddyn yma.

Mae'n rhaid i fi ddwedu fod y ddau gôr wedi rhoi eu perfformiad gorau erioed yn y rownd derfynol!

Beth sydd ar y gweill nesaf i'r ddau gôr?

Bydd Côr Iolo yn recordio CD yn fuan ac yn cynnal cyngerdd ar Mehefin 18 yn Acapela Pentrych (croeso i bawb!) i ddathlu ein llwyddiant yn Côr Cymru.

Bydd Côr Heol y March hefyd yn recordio CD cyn diwedd y flwyddyn, ac yn recordio "Senghenydd", gwaith Owain Llwyd i gôr plant a band pres i goffau y trychineb pwll glo gan mlynedd yn ôl, gyda Band Pres Melingriffydd. Wedyn yn 2016 mwy o ystadu!

Gyda pwy fasech chi'n hoffi cael pryd o fwyd?

Er nad wyf erioed wedi ei chyfarfod, buaswn yn hoffi cael pryd o fwyd gyda Elin Manahan Thomas. Roedd hi yn un o feirniaid ansydddogol cystadlaethau Côr Cymru, ac rwyf wedi edmygu ei gwaith hi ers blyneddau.

Pwy ydych chi'n eu hedmygu?

Ar wahân i fy ngŵr(!), Euros Rhys Evans, o'r Rhŵs. Mae wedi cyfansoddi cerddoriaeth gwych i Gôr Heol y March – fe wnaethom berfformio dau o'i ddarnau yn Côr Cymru – "Suon y Don" yn y rownd cyn-derfynol, a "Diolchwn i Ti" yn y rownd derfynol.

Mae cerddoriaeth corawl Euros yn arbennig ac mae yn wir haeddu cydnabyddiaeth am ei grefft.

Beth yw eich uchelgais am y ddeng mlynedd nesaf?

Wel cadw'n iach ac yn ifanc yw'r nod penna! Mae 'na lawer mwy i'w gyflawni gyda'r plant. Hefyd rwy'n gobeithio bydd llawer o'r plant sydd yn Côr Plant Heol y March nawr yn aros gyda ni i ddatblygu côr ieuencid yn y dyfodol.

Rwy'n gobeithio cyflawni llawer mwy gyda nhw ar lwyfanau Cymru, Prydain ac yn rhyngwladol. Wedyn efallai fe wna'i i ymddol!

Beth yw eich gwyliau delfrydol?

Mae John fy ngŵr yn ceisio fy mherswadio i ni fynd ar daith draws America ar "Route 66" o Los Angeles i Chicago, ac wedyn i lawr i New Orleans, sy'n swnio yn gyffrous iawn! Neu gorwedd ar draeth yn Bali yn clonciau efo fy ffrind Kim sy'n byw yno, heb wneud hynny ers tro!

Le yw eich hoff dafarn neu fwty yn y Fro?

Rydym yn cefnogi tafarndai a bwytafai sy'n lleol i ni, yn arbennig yr Aubrey Arms yn Nhresimwn, a Bar 44 a'r Market Place yn Y Bontfaen.

Mae'r cystadlaethau 'Côr Cymru Cynradd' a 'Feinal Côr Cymru' ar gael i'w gwlyio eto ar S4C Clic tan Mai 23ain 2015.

Angharad

HEB os digwyddiad penna mis Ebrill i'n teulu ni ac yn gyffredinol o ran bod llygaid Cymru ar ardal y Bontfaen oedd llwyddiant rhyfeddol Eleri Roberts yn curo'r dwbl yn arwain cor Heol y March a chor ysgol Iolo Morganwg i fuddugoliaeth ysgubol yng nghystadlaethau Côr Cymru.

Ac nid mater bach oedd cipio coron Cor Cymru yn erbyn corau mor wych a Cywair, Parti Lluchwr, Ysgol Gerdd Ceredigion a Bechgyn Bro Taaf.

Roedd llond bws ohonom yn gadael yn gynnar o'r Bontfaen y bore dydd Sul hwnnw, yn rieni prowdd a phlant yn llawn cyffro. Roedd y ffrogiau du wedi eu smwddio, a'r esgidiau yn sgleiniu.

Braint rhyfeddol oedd cael bod yno yn y gynulleidfa a chollwyd ambell i ddeigrin hefyd wrth ymglo i y sain hyfrydaf gaffod y gair ganmol gan y beirniaid rhyngwladol.

Roedd sawl un am wybod beth yw cyfrinach Eleri i gael plant a phobl ifanc i gyd-ganu mor swynol wrth berfformio darnau anodd o safon aruthrol o uchel.

Wel, yn ogystal a'i dawn aruthrol hi wrth gwrs mae'r sylw manwl a roddir i bob nodyn; yr awydd i wneud y gorau bob amser; a'r parch a roddir i Eleri gan y plant wrth iddynt hwy ddygu bod llwyddiant yn dod bwyta lot!

Da iawn bawb arall o Fro Morgannwg a lwyddodd i gwblhau'r ras hefyd a gobeithio eich bod chi'n mwynhau'r cyfnod yma o wneud fawr ddim a bwyta lot!

Adolygiad

CAFWYD noson arbennig gan Meic Stevens a Gareth Bonello yn nhafar y Windsor, Penarth nos Wener diwethaf, fel rhan o Gigs Bach y Fro.

Roedd Gwenda Richards yno:

Roedd yr ystafell gefn yn llawn i glywed Meic, un o eiconau roc mwyaf Cymru yn perfformio ei ganeuon enwocaf. Gan ddechrau gyda Cân Walter fe symudodd yn gyflym drwy'r repertoire - Gwin a mwy a merched drwg, Ysbryd Solfat, Trywern y Erwan.

Trefnwyd y gig yma gan Menter Iaith Bro Morgannwg a diddorol oedd clywed Meic yn diolch am y cyfle i berfformio i gynulleidfa Gymraeg oherwydd yn ei brofiad e, yn ei anaml byddai gig o'r fath yn awr yn cael ei gynnal yn y Gorllewin.

"Cei di ddim cyngerdd fel hyn yn y Gorllewin a diolch i bawb am ddod ma heno – ma ni'n cal hwy! ma yn dathlu ein Cymreictod, achos ma Cymreictod yn y gorllewin ar y ffordd mas." Dwi licio'r ffordd ma Meic yn galw pawb yn 'ti'... hyd yn oed cynulleidfa cyfan!

Wrth gyflwyno 'Gwely Gwag' cyfeiriodd at ei salwch a bod ei lais yn gwella ar ôl tair blynedd o driniaeth. Roedd yn swnio'n grêt i fi ac yn amrywio o baled fel Bobby Sands i blues y Delyn Aur. Mae'r arthrits wedi dal ei afael ar ei law chwith mynte fe, ond mae'n dal yn gallu trin y gitar fel meistr er iddo cyfadde methu ambell i gord barre yng Nghau Walter. Ymlaen a ni a dechroedd canu 'Daeth neb yn ôl'. Ond stopiodd ar ôl dwy bennill gan wffio'r gan am fod yn rhy hir! Ma'r hiwmon 'na o hyd, Ymunodd pawb gyda'r 'greatest hits' fel Douanarez, y

Brawd Houdini ac i gloi, Ar lan y môr. Newidiodd cywair ail hanner y noson gyda Gareth Bonello yn canu caneuon o'r traddodiad morwrol fel Bachgen Mam a Hiraeth am Feirion ac yna sawl cân oddi ar ei albwm The Gentle Good, lle mae dylanwad offerynnau Tseiniaidd yn gryf. Mae'n llwyddo i gyfleu synau y rhain ar y gitar yn arbennig o gelfydd.

Do, we ni di cal hwy! na – ac edrychaf ymlaen i'r Gig Bach y Fro nesaf gyda Steve Eaves fis Mehefin.

YSGOL GYMRAEG DEWI SANT

MAE pawb yn Ysgol Gymraeg Dewi Sant yn gyffrous wrth weld eu hadeilad newydd yn datblygu!

Mae'r to, ffenestri a'r muriau yn eu lle a'r adeiladwyr bellach yn canolbwyntio ar y gwaith mewnol gan gynnwys y gwres tan lawr.

Mae plant Dosbarth Onnen (Meithrin) a Dosbarth Derwen (Derbyn) wedi cyflawni prosiect ar adeiladu ac wedi mwynhau edrych drwy'r ffenestri i weld beth sydd yn digwydd.

Meddai Miss Phillips yr athrawes Feithrin "Mae'n ddoniol. Bob diwrnod rydyn ni'n gosod y celfi a'r offer yn yr ardal allanol ac ar ddiwedd pob dydd mae'r plant wedi eu symud er mwyn sylu ar y gweithwyr.

Mae'r craenau a'r peiriannau symud pridd wedi bod yn ddiffrwch mawr!"

Mae'r plant wedi cynllunio murluniau ar y ffiniau pren sydd yn gwahanu'r maes oddi wrth y gwaith adeiladu ac mae grwp o staff a rhieni brwdfrydig wedi bod wrthi ers tro yn eu paentio. Roedd dewis rhydd gan y plant ac felly mae cymysgedd o Sali Mali, bwystfilod, morladron, anifeiliad y jyngl a chwaraewyr rygbi wedi'u arlunio!

Mae'r staff a'r plant wedi bod yn rhan o'r cynllunio o'r dechrau gyda newidiadau yn cael eu trafod yn ofalus. Mae'n rhyfedd faint o drafod fu ynghylch â tai bach a'r cilfachodd cotiau!

Mae'r plant wedi claddu "Cist Cofio" o dan y llawr yn y derbynfa newydd sydd yn olrhain datblygiad yr ysgol yn ogystal ag adnoddau y ddangos cipolwg o addysg yn 2015.

Mae'r Pwyllgorau Eco ac Ysgolion Iach nawr yn ysu i helpu creu yr ardaloedd allanol gan gynnwys prosiect ar y cyd gyda'r Gymdeithas Rhieni i greu llwybrau ffitrwydd ar y maes a rhandroedd yn yr ardd.

Mi fydd yr ysgol bresennol yn diflannu yn ystod wythnos gyntaf gwyliau'r haf a'r adeiladau yn cael eu symud i ddwy ysgol arall yn y Fro. Mi fydd yr ysgol newydd ar gyfer 210 o ddysgiblon 4-11 oed ar agor ym mis Medi yn gyfer 52 plentyn o fewn seisiynau bore a phrynhawn.

OS cawsoc'h eich geni rhwng Ebrill 21ain a Mai 21ain rydych chi'n Taurus. Arwydd daear, o dan reolaeth Gwener – planed serch a harddwch.

Rydych felly yn berson artistig ac ymarferol. Fe all pob ddiwyddyn amoch chi, wneud chi byth adael neb i lawr. Rydych chi'n hoffi'r pethau gorau mewn bywyd, bwyd da, bywyd moethus.

Rhaid i chi fod yn gyffwrddus, neu mi fyddwch yn anhapus iawn. Rydych chi'n hoffi'r wlad, byd natur, garddio a blodau, ac yn hoff o gael pethau prydfwrth o'ch cwmpas. Mae'n bosib eich bod yn gerddorol iawn, neu yn artist.

Fe allwch fod yn swil weithiau, ac weithiau'n araf i ddysgu, ond mae gennych gof gwyb. Mi fyddwch bob amser yn barod i helpu ac i weithio'n galed.

Mae sicrwydd yn bwysig iawn i chi, sicrwydd cartre, swydd, ariannol... rydych chi'n hoff iawn o arian!

Onid i'r gwrthwyneb, o dro o dro fe allwch fod yn styfnig iawn, yn enwedig os nad ydych chi'n cael eich ffordd eich hunan. Dy'ch chi ddim yn colli'ch tymer yn aml, ond pan fyddwch chi'n gwneud fe ewch chi'n wyllt!

Yn hollol fel tarw gwyllt! Dych chi ddim yn hoff iawn o droio pethau newydd. A fe allwch fod yn ddiog weithiau, a mwynhau bywyd cymaint nes ennill cryn dipyn o bwysau.

CWRS SADWRN YN SAIN FFAGAN

Ar y 25ain o Ebrill, cynhaliwyd Cwrs Sadwrn Canolfan Cymraeg i Oedolion yn Sain Ffagan.

Roedd pawb wrth eu boddau yn cerdded o amgylch y manau hanesyddol. Ond yr uchafbwynt i lawer oedd cael siarad gyd gweithwyr yr Amgueddfa ac ymarfer eu Cymraeg. Roedd criw o lefel mynediad yn glynnu i'r hyn roeddent yn ei wybod megis "Pwy wyt ti?" "Ble dych chi'n byw?" "Beth yw eich rhif ffon?" Dwi ddim yn siwr os oeddynt yn cael yr atebion cywir gyda'r trydydd cwestiwn!

Roedd y gwersi wedi cael eu lleoli yn adeilad Oakdale oedd o flaen Eglwys Saint Teilo. Roedd pawb wrth eu boddau yn cael eu gwersi yn yr adeilad hanesyddol, ac fesul dosbarth roeddent yn cael ymweld â'r Eglwys. Cawsom wybod lawer o hanes Sant Teilo oedd yn ddiddorol tu hwnt. Fe'i aned yn 500ac yn Penalun, Sir Benfro a bu farw yn 60 mlwydd oed. Roedd yn gefnder ac yn ffrind i Dewi Sant ac ef oedd esgob Eglwys Llandaf. Roedd yr Eglwys Gatholig yn Sain Ffagan yn llawn cerfluniau ohono. Hefyd, ar hyd y waliau roedd lluniau amrywiol o storïau'r Beibl, gan nad oedd pobl yn gallu darllen na deall y Lladin roedd y pregethwyr yn eu trafod yn ystod y cyfnod hwnnw. Ond stori Santes Catrin wnaeth ennyn trafodaeth y dysgwyr.

Santes o Alexandria yr Aifft wnaeth droi ei chefn ar baganiaeth i addoli y Iesu a Duw Cristnogol oed. Roedd yn dywysoges ac yn ysgolhaig, ond daeth yn Grigion yn bedair ar ddeg oed ac fe drodd cannoedd o bobl i Gristnoghaeth yn ei dilyniant. Ond, unwaith y gwnaethpwyd hynny, cawsant eu gyrru i'w farwolaeth! Doedd yr ymarawdwr Maximian ddim am glywed am hyn, felly aeth ar ei hól a'i danfon i'w marwolaeth.

Ceisiodd ei arteithio a'i charcharu yn gyntaf, ond methiant oedd hynny. Oherwydd ei harddwch fe gytunodd i'w phriodi os byddai'n roi nŵl at Beganiaeth. Ond, unwaith eto, gwrthododd Catrin. Felly, rhoddwyd ar yr arthaf gwaethaf, sef ei chlymu ar olwyn bigog a'i throli yn araf tra bod tŷn yn berwi oddi tani. Gwrthododd Catrin rhag ildio ac yn ôl y sŵn, fe dorwyd yr olwyn gan ei phwerau goruchnaturol. Wrth ddod yn rhydd gorchynnodd Maximian i'w filwyr dorri ei phen i ffrwd. A dyna pam fel arfer y gwelwyd cerfluniau o Santes Catrin gyda chlefyd yn ei llaw. Yn ogystal â hynny, dyna pam enwir y roedd tan gwyllt yr 'Olwyn Catrin'.

Roedd y diwrnod yn wych a gwnaeth pawb fwyhau yn fawr. Cofiwch, mae'r cwrs Sadwrn nesaf ar gael yn y Brifysgol ei hunain ar y 13eg o Fehefin. Mae cwrs preswyl yn neuadd Gregynog cyn hynny rhwng yr 8fed a'r 10fed o Fai. Oriau o ddysgu, dawnsio gwerin a canu ar gael! Ymrestrwch nawr ar learnwelsh.co.uk

The Vale Business Park offers a huge variety of services to local people

THE Vale Business Park at Llandow is not easily missed – it stands out on the road between Cowbridge and Llantwit Major – but is easily misunderstood.

Take a quick look and you will see a number of sheds stretching into the distance, and it is easy to jump to the conclusion that it is a base for light industry.

'Nothing to see here' – the average retail customer might think – but they would be very wrong!

Experts in a wide variety of trades are busy on the business park – sometimes going out to customers, but often giving a warm welcome to people with a problem that needs solving. A case in point is Mark Edwards, of Llandow MoTs. Two years ago, his company worked primarily with commercial vehicles, but then he decided to open an MoT bay.

Initially, the company employed two mechanics, but the response has been such that two rapidly became four, and Mark is about to employ a fifth, as customer satisfaction is clearly very high.

Mark told The GEM that word of mouth had been important – together with effective advertising – and that it proved that the Vale Business Park was a great base to work from.

There are so many specialists on the park, from heating and plumbing to home furnishings, from lawnmowers to printers, from oil suppliers to chimney stacks – and from motor mechanics to joinery companies.

A drive around the business park (keep a note pad handy) can save you a trip much further afield.

The Government is always talking about the importance of SMEs (that's Small and Medium Enterprises to the rest of us) and on the Vale Business Park that is just what you will find – businesses that are small enough to value their customer, and enterprising enough to make a difference!

Farmers head to Llanishen!

Sponsor Brian Lakin presents winner Clive Thomas with the Sigma3 trophy. Also in photograph Geoff Hinchley, Trevor Wooding and society captain Brian Jones.

LLANISHEN Golf Club, Cardiff, nestled in the shadow of Caerphilly mountain with its stunning views across the Bristol Channel over to the Somerset coast proved an ideal venue for the recently held monthly meeting of the Glamorgan Farmers' Golf Society.

A near record attendance of 43 competitors were also keen to extend a very warm welcome to new sponsors Sigma3 Kitchens and Bedrooms, whose chairman and well respected Vale resident Mr Brian Lakin started this family business in 1975.

With many quality prizes supplied by the days sponsor waiting to be won it was not surprising that only two points separated the top four finishers with the overall winner Clive

An injured David Williams talking to runner up in the guest section Alan Husband.

Thomas coming from the back of the field to take first prize with 34 stableford points.

Missing a short putt on the final green proved costly for runner up Trevor Wooding who also finished with 34 points but lost out with an inferior back nine; Gareth Perkins with 32 points finished third and Ray Howells also with 32 points finished fourth.

In the guest section Geoff Hinchley and Alan Husband had the benefit of playing on their home course to finish first and second with 29 and 28 points respectively.

Nearest the pin on the par 3 holes were Aubrey Bowen, Mark Rees, Trevor Wooding, Alan Husband, Julian Kelly and also society captain Brian Jones, who had only recently returned from a cruise around the Bristol Channel!

Dan Jarvis won the longest drive prize and society president Geraint Davies returned home with the Premier Turf sponsored bottle of whiskey when correctly guessing 49 balls would fail to make the journey home. This resulted in £85 being raised for Ty Hafan.

The society's next meeting is scheduled for Thursday, May 28, at Fairwood Park Golf Club when members will be competing for the Shrieval Trophy sponsored by Mr Mark Rees and family.

Congratulations to Tyla Rhosyr, Cowbridge housewife Mrs Mearl Owen, for spending the last 50 years with husband Bryan and always making sure he is one of the society's best dressed golfers.

Nipper Jewell knock-out draw, second round: Martyn Edwards v Dan Jarvis, Keith Davies v Godfrey Lewis, David Williams v Trevor Wooding, Brian Jones v Glyn Watts-Jones, Geraint Davies v Jim Hayes, Aubrey Bowen v Mark Rees, Tony McCarthy v Neil McLean, Rob Llewellyn v John Davies - matches to be played by Thursday, May 28. It's 'walk rate' rather than 'work rate' as football veterans visit

AS the second match of their UK tour, the Victoria Legends FC is composed of players aged 56 to 75 in the UK to enjoy a friendly game of soccer followed by a chance to interact with local players, experience the rich history of the UK and sample real ale.

Wanderers chairman Alun Huish said: "We are all looking forward to the match as a curtain raiser when, later on the same week on May 15 and 16, the 'Vets' welcome back to Wales the 13th Wim Bode International Veterans Football Tournament.

"Sully Sports Club will again host the event, last held in Wales in 2009, and will feature players aged between 35 and 60 from Holland, Belgium, England, Italy and of course Wales.

"Penarth triumphed in 2013 and will be hoping to claim the trophy once again, in what is always a competitive, but friendly tournament, with a motto 'friendship through football'."

Local team visit CCS

RHOOSE Athletic Year 6 football team were recently treated to a day at the CCS as Cardiff City took on Bolton Wanderers.

The tickets were gifted to the team courtesy of Cardiff City FC Community & Education Foundation.

Although the result was not as we hoped the lads had a great time and took in some valuable tips in preparation for their first competitive season.

The Year 6 team are seeking players for next year's Year 7 football which is 11-a-side in the Vale league. We have attracted players from Barry, St Athan and other surrounding areas and welcome new and old players to join us as we continue on through the summer period, training once a week in Rhosce.

Friendly win for Cadoxton bowlers

THE Cadoxton season started with a midweek friendly at Windsor, Penarth.

Paul Swannick captained his first match, with a win on a closely matched rink. A '4' for the visitors brought the scores level on the fifth end, but the home side regained an advantage of 13-6.

This difference was gradually whittled away making the scores level once again at 14-14. The scores were still level with two ends left, which were won with two singles with Paul moving the jack on the last end for the vital shot.

Phil Ellis skipped his rink to a narrow one shot success. A four shot advantage was held by his rink with four ends left. Three of these brought success to the home side to bring the scores level, and another last end single ensured the victory.

Arthur Field and Ray Morris found it hard going in the early stages and it was left to skip Don Kuhnell to contain the deficit to just singles.

However the difference changed dramatically when Arthur and Ray drew four perfect bowls on the 13th end. The home side were unable to score again, with Dennis Hammond also giving good support, until a consolation single for the home side on the last.

Derek Brook found stiff opposition on his rink with the home side failing to score on just three ends.

Scores: S Clements, R Byrne, D Tuck, D Brook 3-21 T Evans, T White, S Ellard, P Moorish; J Stacey, A Prince, A Guest, P Swannick 17-15 T Owen, J Worlock, A Daniel, D Howells; A Field, R Morris, D Hammond, D Kuhnell 18-12 J Armstrong, R Ellis, D Rosery, D Hales; G Powell, D Fanning, J Ferguson, P Ellis 13-12 M Fullbrook, S Latham, R Williams, J Hardess. Final score: 51 - 60.

CADOXTON V CAERAU ATHLETIC The availability of players for Cadoxton's first competitive matches on Saturday was very limited and the 'A' side fixture had to be cancelled.

The first team hosted a 'Carruthers' game against a young side from Caerau. They are well known for the coaching of juniors.

Although they were two players short and conceding a quarter of their shots on two rinks, they were too strong for the makeshift team that Cadoxton were able to field.

Miky Banks, the coach for this young team, skipped against Don Kuhnell's rink, with two of the boys making a triple. They had an excellent game, but with Jim Stacey playing superb lead bowls they were always chasing the game and in a close game the home team eventually drew away in the closing stages.

Howard Craven picked up four shots during the first three ends, but this score wasn't improved until two '4's brought them briefly back into the game on the 12th and 13th ends. Four more were added with 6 against during the closing ends.

Gordon Davies skipped a rink against Mikey Brain, one of their star juniors, and confessed they were much too good for them. The visitors took a 11-0 lead after three ends, this was reduced by four during the next three, but the remainder of the scoring mainly went against.

Roy Harding had Alex Brain in opposition and didn't get much joy, scoring just six singles in their defeat.

Hopefully a stronger side can be selected for future games, when more members become available.

Scores: E Heppenstall, I Heppenstall, D Hammond, G Davies 9-30; G Powell, P Swannick, P Ellis, R Harding 6-31½; R Cole, R Byrne, D Tuck, H Craven 16-23; J Stacey, I Robertson, D Brook, D Kuhnell 21 - 13½. Final

ATOMS REACH SEMI-FINAL

BARRY Atoms recently took part in a tournament in Abergavenny.

First up was a touring Scottish side, who looked quite capable with good technique and lots of pace. Barry started off very pacy themselves and scored after several phases, the ball ending up in Harry's hands.

In a man of the match performance Jack R scored the second for a 2-0 win.

Next up was the home side Abergavenny; they had some big lads who weren't afraid to mix it about, but then again so do we.

Scoring a powerful try through Anton and another by Jack R meant we won this game 2-1.

The game against Monmouth was going to be a real tight affair, with both sides unbeaten and vying for top spot.

Grit, determination and battling spirit got us through this game as Jack R scored the only try for a 1-0 win.

Looking like a future captain, Jack L was organising plays and right the way through out the side boys were stepping up.

In the semi-final we faced Caerleon, but we didn't play with the same intensity, and lost 2-0.

Squad: Jamie, Kaiden, Fin, Anton, Iestyn, Adam, Connor, Rhys, Daf, Jack L, Jack R, Taylor, Zak, Couchy, Ben, Ethan, Cai, Harry.

Tennis is on the menu at local club!

THE newly-formed Barry Community Tennis Club has delivered on its mission to bring affordable and accessible tennis to the people of Barry within a few weeks of its establishment.

As part of the Lawn Tennis Association's initiative to get families on court together during its annual Highland Spring National Mini Tennis Month, Barry Community Tennis Club hosted free parent and child sessions at Romilly Park every Friday and Saturday for three weeks.

Each family attending received a booklet from the LTA and every child received a mini tennis goodie (wristbands, racquet dampers/grips or keyrings).

The club will also provide the LTA's newest initiative, Tennis Tuesdays, which is fun, social tennis just for ladies, every Tuesday 7-8pm and with places limited, pre-booking is advised.

Forthcoming events also include the Quorn Family Tennis Cup on Friday, May 28, where you can get on court with your child (10 and under) to play doubles against other families on a mini tennis court, for family pride and prizes, as well as a series of Great British Tennis Weekends over the summer, in conjunction with national tennis events providing free opportunities to grab a racquet and get on court to have some fun.

For more information about the club, check out their website www.barryctc.co.uk or their Facebook and Twitter pages, email info@barryctc.co.uk or call 07816 311263.

Charlotte Breeze-s past the rest!

THE biggest cheers at the Tredegar Farmers Hunt Point-To-Point Steeplechases at misty and drizzly Lower Machen were for dedicated hunt-racing enthusiast Charlotte Breeze, whose eight-year-old bay gelding CastleGrace ran out an easy, 10 lengths winner of the open maiden race.

CastleGrace, which Charlotte bought at the Ascot Sales last year, was ridden by former national champion James Tudor who was chalking-up his 250th winner between-the-flags (he's also ridden 34 winners under rules). James, who hails from the Vale, needs 20 more wins to equal the Welsh record of 270 wins set by another rider from the Vale, the legendary John Llewellyn, who was a steward at the meeting.

James said: "This was a steering job really and a lot of the credit must go to trainer Michelle Harris." Another rider from the Vale who had plenty to smile about was Cowbridge's Byron Moorcroft, aged 26, who notched-up his first ever double when winning the confined race on 20-1 outsider Rainbow Haze and the young horse maiden on Moontripper, both trained in the Vale by Kathryn Dando.

The homebred Rainbow Haze, jointly owned by Michael Armitage and Kathryn's husband Phillip, handily placed throughout, won by four lengths from Mr Sawyer (James Tudor) and his rider said: "He jumped really well."

Moontripper, a six-year-old bay mare owned by Vale estate agent Anthony Brown, and who has been described as "a bit of a handful" held on by three parts of a length, after leading three fences from the finish from the favourite Captain Camelot (Nick Williams).

Racing got underway with a three-horse members' race and the favourite Ski Sunday, who is blind in one eye, finished alone after outsider of three Quiltime unseated her rider, Ms George, who was having her first ride in a point-to-point, at the third fence and then James Tudor departing from Heavenstown at the 11th fence.

Ski Sunday was ridden by 22-year-old Darrach Skelly from Limerick in Ireland who rides out for Vale National Hunt trainer and former national champion point-to-point rider Evan Williams.

The Subaru Restricted Open race went to the Croome & West Warwicks invader Annamult the 7-4 favourite which made nearly all the running to win by two lengths from Andrew Leyshon's Distant Sound (Evan David) which had made a bold effort three fences from the finish.

Annamult, owned by Alan Phillips, was partnered by Aly Stirling, aged 26, from Cirencester. Zara Phillips saw her Frankenstorm (Tom David), who showed some early pace, finish last of the five runners.

Only three horses faced the starter for the men's open race and although the favourite Divine Intavention made every post a winning one under Mark Wall, Patricktomboru and Evan David tried hard to narrow the gap on the second circuit and despite making a mistake at the penultimate fence was only beaten by a short head. "He always gives his best," said Mark on dismounting from the 11-year-old bay gelding who is owned by Henry Wilson and trained by Francesa Moller and qualified with the Heythrop Hunt.

As for the unlucky Patricktom Boru, he will be going into training with Evan Williams to race under rules.

Keith Pritchard's Watch The Birdie, who had chipped a bone in her near hind leg which had got into a ligament last October, was back to her brilliant best when winning the ladies' open race by a length from the favourite Cygnet, who had been held up by Jodie Hughes.

Watch The Birdie, who also won the best turned out award, was ridden by Hannah Lewis who said: "She's very excitable but she was a different horse today and that was fantastic." Wales' most loved point-to-pointer, Chesnut Annie, who had recently won her 40th race, trailed home in fifth place.

Watch The Birdie was the second leg of a double for Bridgend's Gareth Moore, who had also saddled Ski Sunday, winner of the members' race.

JAMES MAKES IT 251

Twenty-four hours after chalking-up his 250th winner at the Tredegar Farmers Hunt Point-To-Point Steeplechases, James Tudor, aged 31, made it win number 251 when winning the restricted race on High Hatton at the Radnor & West Herefordshire meeting.

High Hatton is owned by Cowbridge's Jeff Bird and trained at Merthyr Mawr by Jonathan Tudor.

At the Banwen & Vale of Clettwr fixture on May Day Monday, Omore-by-Sea's Nick Williams won the first race to be held over the new racecourse and described the track as being 'beautiful'.

Riding the ex-Rebecca Curtis trained National Hunt performer BoyFromNoWhere, the odds-on favourite, he came home 20 lengths ahead of Mumbles Pier ridden by Richard Patrick and trained by Jonathan Tudor. BoyFromNoWhere is owned by Alan Rhead and trained at Bridgend by Gary Moore. However, the day's riding honours went to John Mathias who won on his six mounts, a feat he achieved in 2011. He is the only British rider to have partnered six winners at a single meeting.

The ladies' open race was won by Highly Unlikely, who was ridden by Tenby's Charlotte Evans.

Connor Brace, aged 13, won the 138 cm open pony race over seven furlongs on his 12-year-old bay mare Molly, but in a close finish to the 148 cm pony race his Dont Tell Dai was beaten by Gollum, ridden by 15-year-old Isabel Hunt.

'Terry Nolan Day' at Murch Bowling Club

CELEBRATING its 25th anniversary this year, the Murch Bowling Club opened the current outdoor season on Saturday, April 18, designated 'Terry Nolan Day' in memory of one of the founder members who established the club in 1990, and who contributed greatly to its development in the subsequent years.

This year, for the first time, the players were competing for the Terry Nolan Trophy, to be awarded annually on this day.

The club president Mrs Judy Fudge, men's captain Marc Hughes and ladies' captain Sheila Mauchline, welcomed the members to the open day festivities on a beautiful sunny day.

Players then chose their places around the green to bowl for the customary bottle of whisky, which was won by Terry Phillips, the men's vice captain.

The mixed rinks enjoyed an afternoon's bowling with the winning rink of Ron Crouch, John Evans, Judy Fudge and Tony Rice receiving the Terry Nolan Trophy.

Players and spectators alike adjourned to the clubhouse for the customary buffet and evening celebrations.

Barry Athletic celebrate their anniversary

THIS summer, Barry Athletic FC celebrate their 40th anniversary.

The club are holding a disco with buffet for players, officials and supporters both past and present at the Masonic Hall in Barry on Saturday July 4.

Tickets for the event need to be purchased in advance and are priced at £10; please contact Steve Heathfield on 07795 560476 or Adey Heathfield on 07886 074230. The club can also be contacted on bafc75@gmail.com.

Rain stops play at Millwood

LAST Wednesday, Millwood played a friendly away to Barry Plastics; unfortunately no scorecards were handed in, but all enjoyed the trip and the game.

Saturday should have been an inter-club team friendly, but the inclement weather made sure that not a bowl was delivered. All members were quite disappointed about not playing, at least everyone there was informed that this weekend games will start again in earnest.

The club side are away to Maesteg Welfare in the Carruthers Shield starting at 2.30pm. There is a meeting in the clubhouse, the time is on the sheet, while the A' side are home to Llantwit Major in the next round of the South Vale League. Again start time is 2.30pm, meeting in clubhouse is noted on sheet.

Wolves go on tour to Minehead!

THE young lads from Dinas Powys Wolves recently attended the UK's biggest youth football festival in Minehead Butlins.

Playing teams from England and France, the experience was something the boys will not forget.

In the opening match, the villagers played local side Hanham Athletic and set about the English team with the sort of football we have seen all year from the boys, winning 8-0.

Their next match was against the bigger French champions, As Champs Sur Marne. Dinas started the brighter and were camped in the French half for long periods but struggled to score against the bigger lads. A few decisions didn't go their way as the French team got the winner, scoring from a free kick.

Dinas now had two matches remaining on the opening day so it was time to dust themselves down and get back to playing football.

They certainly did this, winning both games, 5-1 against Bridgewater Wolves and 4-0 against Trinant Tornadoes. It was a great opening day with the boys playing the right way. What then followed was a night of madness and laughs.

After a late night of partying, Dinas faced four tough matches on day two.

First up were Workingham & Bracknell FC, and this match went to the wire. Dinas peppered their goal but some fine saves and last ditched defending kept the score 0-0 with minutes left. However, this young team know that you keep passing and moving, chances will come and two fine late goals wrapped up the match to make it 2-0 to Dinas.

Now it was the derby match against AFC Rummy Juniors and this was certainly the best performance the Dinas boys put in all weekend. The movement and one touch football was first class as they ran out 5-0 winners.

This set up a 'winner takes all' match against Chelsea Academy School. After a setback, conceding a goal from a free kick in the opening minute, Dinas were again camped in the English team's half but failed to convert their chances as the woodwork and keeper denied them. Chelsea then ran out 2-0 winners as their lively striker put the game to bed.

In the final match, Dinas played north London team Enfield Town, and what took place typified all that's good about these lads.

Enfield had been struggling with numbers through sickness and injuries so Dinas dropped their numbers to play.

It was a great match played in the true sporting spirit. At one point, a number of the Dinas players turned their shirts inside out and played for Enfield. The final score was 8-1 to Dinas.

It was a great weekend as the boys certainly put the Vale on the map with the football they played and the striking pink kit they wore. A big thanks to all the players and parents for making this a great few days.

DINAS WOLVES 10 - DINAS LIONS 4
This certainly wasn't a classic performance by the Wolves as a long weekend of football looked as if it had taken its toll on the young lads.

Wolves took an early lead with goals from Harewood, Saunders and Hewitson, but struggled to get their passing game going as too many players were too happy to take everyone on. Further goals from Hewitson, Harewood, Booker and Quest increased their lead.

Wolves ran out comfortable winners with more goals from Harewood, Saunders and Pierra while Lions hit back with a couple of fine strikes from H Benson.

Barry gala brings out swimming clubs

THE first gala held for the Ray Sutton Cup was in 1995, the year following the death of Barry Amateur Swimming Club's longstanding chief coach and chairman.

Ray had been a strong supporter of the Barry club for many years and his work had mainly been coaching swimmers at the Cold Knap outdoor swimming pool or in the winter at the RAF pool in St Athan.

The cup was presented by his family to the Barry club for inter-club competitions, in memory of Ray.

Last Sunday Barry Amateur Swimming Club hosted the 21st Ray Sutton Gala at the leisure center.

It was attended by several other clubs, Llantrisant Sharks, who brought two teams, Celtic Dolphins and Cwmbran. Barry also had two teams.

Barry ASC is currently rebuilding its team following the departure of several good swimmers, so this was a good opportunity to show the newer team members what club swimming is all about.

The competition was fast and furious and gave some of the newer and younger Barry members their first chance to swim in a gala.

The gallery was full of parents and supporters from all the clubs and the poolside was also a very busy area with the swimmers, coaches and officials milling around.

Our senior swimmers worked very hard and won a few races showing the newer swimmers what they can aim for in our next competition.

The 'older' quartet of Ryan, Jack, Bethan and Georgia, who make up our club captains and vice captains all put in some excellent swims and helped gain much needed points for the club.

This was a fun gala with all the relay races made up of two male and two female swimmers, designed to build team spirit.

All the swimmers tried their hardest and we congratulate them all on their efforts.

At the end of the gala every club said that they had very much enjoyed the competition and the friendly and welcoming atmosphere at Barry.

Llantrisant Sharks were the winning club - they always attend our galas and enjoy the welcome and the friendly competition; Celtic Dolphins were the runners up so Barry didn't win the gala but had fun trying - maybe next time!

If your family enjoys swimming and would like to join our swimming club, do make your way down to the Barry Leisure Centre after 7pm on Mondays or Fridays - please contact Heulwen Cooper on 01446 733784 if you'd like more information. SB

Atoms' tournament win

BARRY Atoms went into the Llantwit Major tournament in fine spirit and with a good attitude.

They took a squad of 20, and a player who came to support with a broken arm!

The following scores are all in tries, as there were no conversions.

Tonyrefail 0 Barry Atoms 1

This was a very tight affair against strong and purposeful opposition who showed good rugby flair. The try was scored by Rory.

Llandaff North 0 Barry Atoms 2

We played a determined side, not wanting to give up the ball, but they were no match for an Atoms side that were positive in the backs and powerful up front. Great team play resulted in tries by Jack Reid and Daf.

Rhydyfelin 0 Barry Atoms 4

This was possibly the least challenging test for the boys. We bossed it and ran out easy winners through phase play well worked right through the ranks, leading to tries by Jack Reid (two), Rory and Fin.

Llantwit Major 2 Barry Atoms 3

This game proved to be the toughest test, and there was no surprise, as they are local rivals. Tries by Jack Reid and Rory made sure this tight affair went to the Atoms, and meant they would be in the cup final, having only conceded two tries all day.

Final - Tonyrefail 1 Barry Atoms 5

The Atoms were by far the best team here as three tries by Jack Reid, with tries apiece from Rory and Jack Norman, ensured victory.

Brian Lee's point-to-point recollections - 1983

THIS was the year, as our racing correspondent BRIAN LEE's press clippings scrap book reveals, that Cowbridge's own John Llewellyn made hunt-racing history by becoming the first Welshman to win the national point-to-point riders' championship outright.

'The 1983 Welsh season got under way with the Banwen Miners fixture at Erw Lon, Pencader, and the ladies open race was won by the legendary Sue Aston who riding Million Dollar Man, a horse which had run in the Epsom Derby six years earlier, finished a length ahead of Derrick Llewellyn's prolific National Clover.

Paul Hamer, of Bridgend, landed a first and last race double. He took the members' race on Anascend and division two of the maiden on Flashout, St Athan farmer John Thomas partnered his grandfather's 12-year-old Cottage Chest to a five lengths victory over the favourite Flap in the adjacent hunts race.

The men's open went to the odds-on favourite Brigadier Mouse ridden by Barry Thomas.

The reigning Welsh champion rider Cowbridge's John Llewellyn 'looked to have the point-to-point owners association club race well and truly won when going to the last fence clear on Promoter, but took a tumble which left the way clear for the favourite Ashburton and David Stephens.'

However, a week or so later, my report on the Brecon Hunt Steeplechases was headlined 'Llewellyn Lands A Double' and read: 'Cowbridge farmer John Llewellyn landed a double at the Brecon Hunt Steeplechases.

He took Gemmerley Jane to a two-length win over ex-hurdler If And When in the second division of the men's open, and partnered Matey to an eight length victory over Dance Master in division three of the restricted open event.

In the ladies' open, odds-on favourite National Clover had four lengths to spare over the pacemaker Little Trouble. Brecon's Brian Eckley won the maiden on Loch Raven and the members' race on Glynn Valley.

At the Gelliager Farmers, Herbert Gibbon's Quiz Master set a record when winning the members' race for the fifth time.

Twelve-year-old Quiz Master, who had missed the previous year's race owing to injury, was ridden by Tim Rooney.

John Llewellyn was in fine form at the Pembrokeshire Hunt Steeplechases where he won the first three races. He took the members' race on Matey, the open on Gemmerley Jane and the restricted on Garrigill.

Merthyr Mawr's Jonathan Tudor won the maiden on Bright Hope, while at the Llangibby, Joan Stephens, of Penhow near Chepstow, won the RMC Group Ladies Open race on Casha which won by 25 lengths from Drumman.

At the Monmouthshire, I reported that 'Violet Higgs' Magic Rock fell twice during the members' race and still emerged the winner. Magic Rock, ridden by farrier Andrew James, was heading Kanda Fair, ridden by Andrew's apprentice Rodway Heathfield, when it fell at the 10th fence leaving Kanda Fair with a clear lead.

Quickly remounting, Andrew chased after Kanda Fair, and was closing the gap only to fall again at the 14th fence. Not to be outdone by his apprentice, Andrew got back in the saddle again and rode with such gusto that by the time Kanda Fair had reached the last fence he was alongside him and, sprinting away on the run-in, Magic Rock scored by eight lengths.'

These days, riders are not allowed to remount their horses once they have fallen in a race. Bridgend's Gary Perkins had a comfortable win on Chevalgo in the maiden race at the Talybont where Abergavenny's Mark Richards rode a double on Andryama in men's open and Ballybuck in the restricted. At the South Pembrokeshire Philip Mathias rode a treble with Celtic Hill, Zarzalitine and Flap and his older brother Richard won on Ferriter.

There were 233 entries for the Glamorgan Hunt Point-To-Point at St Hilary and under the heading 'Llewellyn Treble' I revealed: 'One of the oldest point-to-pointers in training - Rose Harry's 17 year-old Fitz - won the members' race.

Fitz, known as 'The Grand Old Man of Welsh Hunt Racing', was the first leg of a treble for John Llewellyn, who is putting in a strong bid for the national men's point-to-point riders' championship. Llewellyn also won the Open on Master Straight and the first division of the Maiden on Ashercan.'

At the Tredegar Farmers, where John Thomas won the restricted on 25-1 chance Gerrard's Cross, Crosstown, a 12-year-old chestnut gelding owned by Barry farmer Ted Williams landed the open race.

Ridden by Bassaleg's Tim Rooney, Crosstown took up the running approaching the second last fence and scored by four lengths from Scriven Girl.'

My report for the Penttyrch that year read: 'Shock Win By Shan-At 33-1' and I went on to say: 'Rhonda farmer's daughter Shan Morgan the Welsh women's point-to-point champion, rode her father's Ivor Hael to a shock 33-1 victory.

She beat Last Score ridden by John Llewellyn in the restricted open event. Llewellyn, however, landed a double with Brock and Mr Moneybags. Mr Moneybags put up a fine performance for a five-year-old when winning the Welsh Point-to-Point Grand National Open race in a time of 8mins, 21secs for the four miles course.'

Poor old Fitz had led over the last only to get caught on the run-in by Mr Moneybags to whom he was giving 14lbs.

Under the heading 'Cheers Bring Shame' I reported: 'In all the years I have been following point-to-point racing I have never known anyone to delight in the fall of a horse.

But last Tuesday at The Ystrad during the ladies' open race it happened. Some sections of the crowd cheered when Derrick Llewellyn's National Clover, who was leading Norman Jones' Drumman by about 15 lengths, fell at the last fence.

One can only assume that these 'hunt-racing enthusiasts' had backed Drumman and were cheering through their pockets. All right, so the fences are there to be jumped and one would not wish to take anything away from Drumman, who incidentally had run in the Ladies' Point-To-Point Championship at Chepstow Racecourse the previous day.

But National Clover's owner, Mr Llewellyn, who has helped to put Welsh point-to-pointing on the map as a rider and an owner must have been hurt by the crowd's bad behaviour - not to mention the feelings of the rider, young Mandy Lingard.

National Clover, with seven wins behind her this season, needed that win to put her in the running for the Grand Mariner Championship as two horses share the lead with eight wins. Thankfully National Clover appeared all right after her fall.

Not so lucky was Gerrards Cross who had to be put down after falling in the earlier Adjacent Hunts event. Nothing to cheer about there, that's for sure.'

It was at this meeting that John Llewellyn took the restricted race on Western Princess and Paul Hamer rode a double on Red Vein in the members' and Yellow Jersey in the adjacent. However, Yellow Jersey was months later disqualified by the Jockey Club and his owner Geoffrey Hamer told me at the time: "Yellow Jersey lost the race because he was not in compliance with the general conditions of the race."

And finally, under the heading 'Llewellyn Brings Trophy To Wales' I wrote: 'Cowbridge farmer John Llewellyn made point-to-point history on Saturday by becoming the first Welshman to win the Daily Telegraph Trophy, which goes to the leading rider.

Llewellyn, 37 next month, brought his total of wins to 19 when landing the first division of the men's open race on 14-1 outsider East of Eden at the Torrington Farmers fixture which ended the season. And one of the first to congratulate on his success was reigning champion Peter Greenall (Incidentally, he's now a Lord) who, in the second division, partnered Cheekio Ora to a win over Llewellyn's mount Master Straight.'

Llewellyn's total of 19 wins in a season bettered Tim Rooneys Welsh record of 16 which had been set in 1981.

Barry survives the physical onslaught of Taffs Well RFC

THE inclement weather was not to anyone's liking as Barry played their penultimate league match at home against a 'rejuvenated' Taffs Well side last Saturday.

The conditions allied with the physical size of the opposition certainly gave supporters concern before kick off. Their concerns were quickly proved correct as the home scrum was sent into retreat in the early exchanges.

To counter this Barry were playing an open game attempting to spread the ball around, keeping the heavier opposition on the move and were having some success as they made ground toward the visitors' line where from the resulting ruck, Goodfellow crashed through for the opening try which Scott duly converted for a 7-0 lead.

The visitors were playing to their forward strength as expected and despite some heroic defending the home side were to concede a try as they were driven back near their line.

Despite their forward dominance, Barry still managed to get some reasonable possession of their own and that, with the benefit of Taffs Well indiscretions, gave them a foothold into the visitors' half which resulted in Scott kicking a penalty to increase the lead.

Significantly the visitors continued to earn the wrath of the referee as the penalty count against them increased enabling Barry to both avoid the set piece and gain a territorial advantage which produced another two penalties which Scott calmly slotted over to give the home side a 16-5 lead, a lead they had thoroughly earned bearing in mind the torrid time they were experiencing up front.

As the half came to a close it was the home side doing most of the attacking, culminating with a fine 60 yard break by White, set up by superb attacking defence, which just broke down near the line, leaving Barry 11 points to the good.

Now playing with the slope in worsening weather, the scrum continued to be a problem for the home side, but somehow, mainly due to good work at the back from Jones, they were managing to frustrate the visitors.

However Taffs Well changed tactics and began to try to get their backs into the game, but were met with a good defensive effort from a determined home side.

They let their concentration slip as they conceded a penalty which was taken quickly and allowed the visitors' to reduce the lead with an unconverted try to reduce the deficit to six points.

At this stage the Barry eight had finally got some parity up front as the bigger visitors forwards began to tire, a great credit after the pounding they had suffered for most of the game.

As solid as the home defence had been throughout the game so was that of the visitors who managed to hold out and prevent Barry scoring any further points.

The visitors were rewarded for this in the dying seconds with an converted try and the final whistle, giving the home side a win they richly deserved after a game which is probably, physically, the hardest they have had this season

Barry's final game of the season is this Saturday against Old Illydians in a game that could decide whether the club will achieve promotion to Division 2 for next season.

There are too many alternatives to explain here, but suffice to say a win would be enough to see them through; the game takes place at Moreland Park, kick-off 2.30pm, so come along to give them the support they deserve.

Difficult year continues for the Gambits

IT has been a difficult year for the Gambits.

Since January we have played eight games and shown remarkable consistency in losing every one. In our last match of the season against the Rhondda Hurricanes we had one last chance to break this unwanted record.

Could we do it? Well just about as we earned a draw. The best performance came from Windsor Lewis who at last showed the form he has usually been showing in the Club Championship to pick up a win.

Stephen Bonutto found himself elevated to the heights of board 1 to earn a draw against Bill Davies, picking up some much needed ratings points in the process.

The Gambits end the season in seventh place, some 11.5 points behind the season's surprise team, the North Cardiff Ravens, who finished in the final promotion spot.

There was also a match for the Quarks in division 3. With two games to go we knew we needed to pick up a minimum of eight points out of the 10 on offer.

We selected our strongest team of the season with a couple of our division 1 players dropping down two divisions to help out.

Our opponents, the Cardiff Dragons, already knew they were promoted but were hoping to win the divisional trophy.

A tough encounter ensued with the black pieces ending up undefeated on the night. The Quarks picked up draws in the games in which we held the black pieces, but the Dragons fared better winning their two black games to take the match 3.5 to 1.5.

This ended our promotion challenge and gave the Dragons the title, finishing only half a point above Bridgend.

The Quarks have one game left to play against already relegated Caerphilly Knights. We need to pick up only two points to secure fourth place but for a team that has spent nearly all the season in the promotion places it will seem too little too late.

The Barry Chess Club meets at 7.30pm each Monday at the West End Club, St. Nicholas Road, Barry CF62 6QY. The club is open to players of all standards; whether you are interested in playing competitive chess or just the occasional friendly games.

New players are very welcome to just turn up on the night but if you contact one of the club members through the website we can explain what is happening on the night you have in mind, and arrange for someone to greet you on your arrival.

"WE ARE THE CHAMPIONS!"

Wolves lift the title!

DINAS POWYS Wolves under-12s knew that a win would seal the title in their first year in competitive football, facing off against LMFC Yellows.

Given the simple instruction of enjoy your football and relax the visitors got off to a flying start, as Kyle Booker opened the scoring within the first minute, striking the ball sweetly from 25 yards into the top corner.

Dinas doubled their lead on the 10th minute mark as a trademark run and finish from Saunders took the pressure off the villagers.

The rear guard were in no mood to let the home side in and Lewis, Frost, Williams, Mallum and Moss shut the shop truly up. Saunders put the Red & Blacks three up at the break with a fine curling strike.

At the break Dinas were reminded that they were within touching distance of the title, and to go out and show why the league table doesn't lie.

Joe Doughty added number four as Dinas went for more goals; Callum Hewitson added the fifth and it was time to enjoy the game. As Dinas cut holes through the home side's defence, Kieran Quest and Hewitson set up Jake Frost for the sixth. Jacob Pereira finished the scoring when again Quest put it on a plate for him to slot in.

Skipper Zak Fifield had a very accomplished match, breaking up the play time and time again. A special mention must go to Dylan Morris who only had one shot to save from a penalty and he certainly pulled it off.

It was a very good team performance and man of the match was Jacob Moss, showing great defensive cover and a willingness to go forward from fullback.

A big thank you to Barry Town United for pushing them all the way, and for applauding the boys when lifting the shield.

LS

Romilly bowlers overcome difficult start in the Shield

ON Saturday Barry Romilly travelled to Pyle & Kenfig to play their first game of the new season against Kenfig Hill in the Carruthers Shield.

One would expect that, playing outdoor bowls in May, the weather would be reasonable - rain you would expect, but certainly not the cold and damp day that was experienced.

With everyone kitted up to keep dry and warm, the game began and it was evident on the trial ends that besides the weather conditions, it was going to be a tricky given to play on.

The Romilly club welcomed two new players to the team, namely Kelyvne Mills and Roger Jones, who have joined this season along with the return of Paul Williams after an 11 year break.

The early ends found Romilly struggling to cope with the green and conditions and were down on two rinks, while drawing on one and ahead on the other with the overall score 12-22 in Kenfig's favour.

After 10 ends the rinks skipped by Jeff Wright and captain Mel Newman were continuing to struggle behind by 11 and five respectively, whereas Graham Cogbill's rink had fought hard to move ahead by four shots, 9-5, with the rink of Gwynne Rees, Roger Jones, Fred Phillips and Brian Foscolo ahead 12-2.

As the game progressed Foscolo's rink remained well in charge and by the end of the 15th had forged further ahead, 21-4, supported by the dogged rink of Gary Eastment, Ray Hewitson, Mike Doyle and Graham Cogbill, who were now five ahead.

Newman's rink had reduced their deficit to just two, which helped cover Jeff Wright's struggling rink, and move Romilly into a nine shot lead, 52-43.

Over the final six ends, Romilly maintained their momentum with the rinks of Foscolo, Cogbill going further ahead and Newman's rink continuing their comeback, while the unfortunate rink of Jeff Wright, although bowling some good woods, were up against an inspired home rink skipped by Graham Block.

Fortunately Romilly overcame a difficult start to run out comfortable winners by 15 shots, 73-58.

The next game is at home this Saturday against Pencoe in another Carruthers Shield match, while the 'A' team are without a game but the club are attempting to arrange a friendly.
